U.N. Asks Full Dress Truce Talk

Reds Ignore Request, Call Off Secret Prisoner Discussion

MUNSAN, KOREA (AP)—The U. N. command today proposed a full-dress meeting Sunday of Allied and Communist armistice delegations. The surprise move came six hours after the Communists broke off secret negotiations on how to exchange prisoners of war.

The U. N. gave no reason for suggesting a plenary session.

The Communists called off the secret prisoner negotiations after the U. N. command announced it would return less than half the Reds captured in Korea.

The effect of the Red action was to remove the veil of secrecy from negotiations.

The prisoner talks were recessed at the request of Col. George Hickman, who said the U. N. command wanted to renege its position in the light of developments.

No Reply

The Communists did not reply immediately to the request for a full-dress session.

The five-man truce teams of admirals and generals have not met since mid-February.

They still face three big hurdles to an armistice: U. N. demands for voluntary repatriation of prisoners and a ban on airfield construction, and Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector.

The Reds ended the secrecy on prisoner talks six days after being told that only 70,000 of 150,000 prisoners of war and civilian internees wanted to return to the Communists.

Chinese Col. Tsai Cheng wen angrily told U. N. negotiators there "has never been anything like the so-called voluntary repatriation throughout history."

Violation

"It is a direct violation of the Geneva Convention from which your side has been quoting so readily and frequently."

The end of secrecy brought the first public disclosure that the U. N. command proposes to return only 70,000 prisoners.

Dec. 18 the U. N. command gave the Reds a roster of 132,000 prisoners and said an additional 37-

Communist Troops Hit By U.N. Planes

SEOUL, KOREA (AP)—Allied fighter-bombers swept in low over the Korean battlefield today bombing and strafing Communist front-line positions a second consecutive day.

Dense clouds blanketing North Korea gave the Reds a temporary respite from aerial bombardment of hard-hit railways and supply facilities. But Communist troop and artillery concentrations got the full treatment of bombs, rockets, jellied gasoline and machine-gun bullets.

Ground action along the 155-mile battlefield was limited to patrol skirmishes and light Red probing attacks.

One Is Seeking Election As Boy Governor

Joe Thomas, of Marion, one of five nominees for boy governor of Ohio, arrived in Columbus Thursday in preparation for the YMCA Youth and Government Program being held in Columbus today, Saturday and Sunday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Thomas of 1059 E. Center St.

Three other Marion boys, all delegates to the model legislature, are scheduled to arrive in Columbus today. They are John Ashworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ashworth of 624 Girard Ave., alternate to state senator; John White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. White of 399 Mary St., representative from Marion County, and Richard Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude O. Snyder of 381 Oak St., alternate to Marion County representative.

350 To Take Part

More than 350 Hi-Y and Tri-Y delegates will take part in the three-day session. Teenagers will debate and vote on 75 measures prepared by local Ohio Hi-Y clubs.

Delegates will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, chaplain and speaker of the house this afternoon.

Also this afternoon, a joint house-senate session will hear a talk by Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, head of the state-wide YMCA Youth and Government Committee.

Separate senate and house sessions will follow, presided over by Lt. Gov. George D. Nye and House Speaker Gordon Renner.

Later, Hi-Y and Tri-Y legislators will shift to Ohio State University campus for a banquet and an address by Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Results of elections for boy governor, lieutenant governor, chaplain and speaker of the house will be announced at the banquet. Chief Justice Carl V. Weyand of the Ohio Supreme Court will swear in the officials elected by the young people.

Saturday's Sessions

Saturday's sessions will be limited to legislative action Sunday, house and senate will meet.

Provides "Remedy" for Violation

Betts Introduces Bill Banning Govt. Seizure

Rep. Jackson Betts, Republican congressman from the 8th Ohio district, which includes Marion County, has joined others who want to prohibit government seizure of "any private business, professional, commercial or industrial enterprise." The Associated Press reported today from Washington.

He introduced a bill Thursday which also provides "equitable remedy" for violation of the ban.

"There has been some question as to the authority of the Chief Executive to seize the steel industry," Betts said in a statement.

"I do not believe that the President has such power, but I do feel that now is the time for this Congress . . . to take a stand on whether or not this vast power shall vest in the executive branch of the government."

Betts, a Findlay resident, acted as the steel industry, fighting

Democrats Open Up On Eisenhower

Political Fire Grows Hotter as Time Nears for Return

By The Associated Press

The signs were clear today that Democratic attacks on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will increase in tempo as the time nears for his return to seek the Republican presidential nomination.

Secretary of Labor Tobin, in one of the first administration blasts at Eisenhower as a politician, said in Cumberland, Md., Thursday night the Democratic party isn't "interested in a mystery man" as a candidate.

"It won't be satisfied with a smile or a good military record or a knack for kissing babies," Tobin said. He did not mention the general by name, but he left little doubt he was referring to him.

And the State Department—instituting no politics was involved in the action—acknowledged it has quit passing out pictures of Eisenhower to Americans planning to visit Europe.

The department said in the past 18 months it has distributed thousands of pictures of Eisenhower on pamphlets explaining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, in which he is the supreme commander. The last was issued 10 days ago, and no more will be printed.

The pamphlets came to light after Rep. Reece (R-Tenn.) told a Boston news conference that the Truman administration is spending huge sums to promote Eisenhower as a political opponent because "they figure Eisenhower" is their "best bet" to beat Reece, a supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination, first made the charge Wednesday, repeated it again Thursday.

Major political activity today centered in Illinois and Arkansas, where Republican conventions are scheduled.

Taft planned to keynote the Arkansas convention tonight. An Eisenhower leader in the state, Jeff Spreck, conceded that the Ohio senator would have the support of seven delegates already chosen in district meetings but he said the general's backers would try to capture the four delegates-at-large in the convention.

Other Developments

There were these developments elsewhere:

Republicans in Virginia's Tenth District selected two supporters of Taft as national delegates, giving him three of the four chosen so far. The other one is uncommitted. The state still must choose 19 more delegates.

Taft campaign aide claimed the Pennsylvania write-in vote for the Ohioan set a new record: he said the 173,000 write-in votes for Taft in Tuesday's primary topped the previous high of 146,000 for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in Pennsylvania in 1944. In the Tuesday vote, Eisenhower got

Reports On Cancer Fund Campaign

Huber Says Results Of Canvass Excellent; Tag Day Saturday

"Excellent results" from Thursday night's house-to-house Cancer Campaign were reported today by Francis B. Huber, treasurer of the Marion County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Plans are all set for the Cancer Tag Day to be held Saturday as another phase of the Cancer Crusade now in progress.

The report on Thursday's drive was made this morning after contributions from Wards 1 and 2 had been counted. Collections from the other four wards were still being counted. Total figures for the Cancer Night collection will be announced Saturday.

More than 300 volunteer workers went into action Thursday night to ask for donations to the $9,000 fund sought in the county to carry on the work of the Cancer Clinic and help fight cancer.

Workers distributed educational literature, designed to help people protect themselves from cancer, while making solicitations.

Mrs. Richard Brandt, Mrs. John Waddell and Mrs. Malcolm Seyers served as co-chairmen of the city-wide house-to-house campaign.

The rural organization has been active for several days and will continue its work for several more days because of the travel distance involved in reaching all homes in the county.

Four local civic clubs will be pooling their efforts in behalf of the Marion County Unit to help raise funds to fight the disease Saturday, Cancer Tag Day in Marion.

The four service clubs participating are the Lions, the Kiwanis, Y-Men and the Jaycees. The clubs will make locations downtown all day Saturday to sell tags for the cancer fund. Jackson Taft, general chairman of the Cancer Crusade, is the coordinator of the tag day campaign.

Gross Agrees To Talk In Police Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Ex-bookie Harry Gross, whose silence wrecked the conspiracy trial of 18 policemen last year, has agreed to talk at a police department hearing.

Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan announced Thursday that the plump bookie had decided behind prison bars to testify against 18 officers accused in the protection of Gross' 20 million dollars a year gambling ring.

They have been tried at one departmental hearing and acquitted of disciplinary charges. Monaghan said they would be re-tried on the basis of what Gross has told officials.

Some of the 18 were among 18 officers on trial in Kings County Court last September when Gross, the state's key witness, suddenly refused to testify. The defendants were freed.

The court trial also involved police protection of Gross' book-making empire. The officers were accused of conspiring to protect him for money.

The state's case, built in two years of probing, went sour solely on Gross' actions.

There we were, one minute, and the next a crazy mob came streaming toward us.

"Get in a cell," Harold cried.

I jumped behind him and we locked ourselves in. Thank God we had taken the master key that controlled all the cellblocks with us. I'm sure that's the only thing that saved our lives.

The mob swept through. Wild-eyed guys, waving clubs and

Says Constitution Doesn't Limit President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's chief lawyer in the steel seizure case argued today that "the President is accountable only to the country" and is not limited by the Constitution.

This contention by Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge brought from Federal Judge David A. Pine the comment: "I never heard that expressed before."

Baldridge had just said that the Constitution "limited the legislative branch, limited the judicial branch but did not limit the executive branch."

U.S. Seamen Trapped In Gun Turret

Asphyxiated By Powder Explosion On Cruiser St. Paul

TOKYO, Saturday (AP)—Thirty American seamen were killed by an explosion in a gun turret on the cruiser St. Paul off Korea Monday. The Navy, announcing that today, called it the worst naval disaster of the Korean war.

The Navy said a "gun powder fire of undetermined origin" set off the explosion in an 8-inch forward turret. A board is investigating.

The St. Paul is commanded by Capt. Roy A. Gano of Falls Church, Va. She is the flagship of Rear Adm. Earl E. Stone, commander of Cruiser Division One.

The St. Paul was firing on Communist positions on the Korean east coast. It continued firing after the blast and still is in Korean waters.

Communist shore guns were not firing at the American warship.

The blast rocked the heavy cruiser. All 30 victims were killed. The Navy said, most by asphyxiation due to burning gases. There were no injuries. All victims were in the turret.

The worst previous naval disaster of this war was June 21 when the U. S. destroyer Walker hit a mine off Wonsan. Twenty-six were killed and 40 wounded.

Plan Stricter Prison Rules In Michigan

Steps Taken Against Future Uprisings; Rioters Face Trials

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Officials of riot-wracked Southern Michigan Prison moved today to tighten their control over the overflow inmate population and guard against any future mutiny in the ranks.

A convict rebellion ended Thursday only after the mutineers won their demands for 13 specific prison reforms.

However, state officials emphasized that the rioters still face prosecution for crimes committed during the rebellion.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams pointed out that as far as punishment went, the mutineers were promised only that there would be no reprisals by members of the State Department of Corrections.

And prison authorities said no reprisals were needed to restore law and order in the world's largest walled prison.

As a condition of surrender, leaders of the five-day mutiny voluntarily returned to Cell Block 15—the infamous disciplinary center where they seized a total of 13 guards as hostages to pressure their demands for changes and held eight of them to the end.

In this block all but a few of the privileges which normally go with prison life are taken away anyhow.

And, from sad experience, precautions were ordered against any slippage such as the one which led to the revolt by some 170 of the prison's 6,500 occupants. A rookie guard was seized Sunday night by Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt, a psychopathic long-term robber, to touch off mutiny.

three-vehicle collision. Injured were Ralph Palmer, 22, of Marysville, head lacerations; and Dana Wolford, 22, of Marysville, lacerations of the knee and face.

Police said the collision occurred at 10:15 p. m. Thursday night when a farm tractor driven by Earl Lockbaugh, 31, of Ashley attempted to go around a parked car with Peg Munsinger, 40, of 358 E. Center St. in the driver's seat. The tractor and a car driven by Robert T. Palmer, 22, of Marysville collided and the Palmer car overturned and struck the Munsinger car.

The injured Marysville men were driven to City Hospital. Palmer's condition was reported as "fairly good" Friday and Wolford was treated and released. The front end of the Axe ambulance was damaged and the right side of the Cantwell car. Damage in the three-vehicle collision was extensive. The Palmer car was demolished and the other two vehicles were damaged.

Major Steel Firm Reports Earnings Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—The first major steel producer to report earnings for the first three months of 1952 has listed a drop of 25 per cent from the like period a year ago.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., second biggest in the industry, reported its net income was $18,926,045, or $1.80 a common share, for three months ended March 31, against $25,066,205, or $2.45 a share, in the same period a year ago.

E. G. Grace, chairman, pointed out this occurred despite record production, shipments and billings.

He said the income represented a return of 4 per cent, lowest rate since 1945, on billings of $466,371,498, compared with a 3.9 per cent return during all of 1951.

At a news conference, Grace dismissed the wage-price dispute raging in the steel industry which the government seized April 1 to avert a strike, and charged that administration support for wage increases was designed to promote further inflation.

There is "no other sound reason" for the government's course in the dispute, Grace said, asserting his "firm belief that inflation has been the bloodstream agent of federal administrations for the past 20 years."

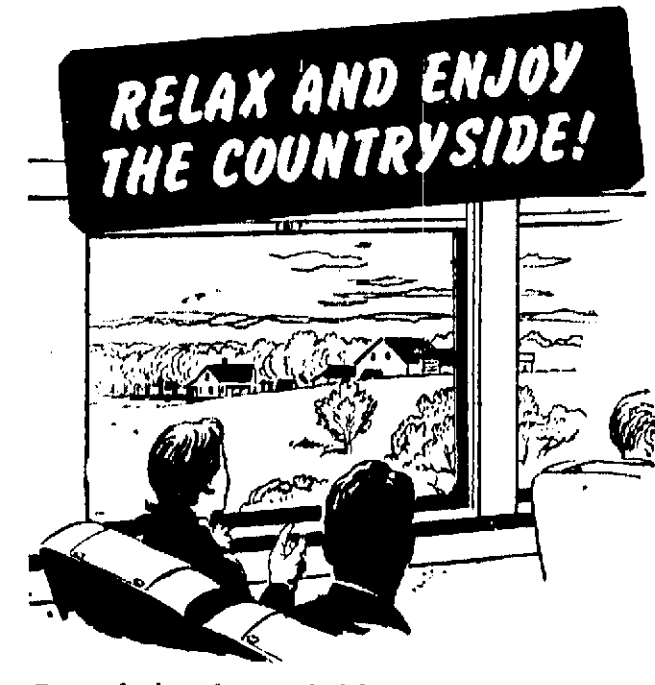

Arbor Day Program Presented for Grange

A program in keeping with Arbor Day was presented at United Grange Tuesday night at the Claridon School. Paul Augenstein was in charge of the meeting. Cards of thanks from all members for remembrances from the Grange were presented, and four other members were reported ill. Two appears for aid from other Granges were mentioned with donations.

Members voted to plant a tree on the school grounds. In charge of the program was Mrs. Calvin Baidinger, and she presented a poem on trees. Contest questions were answered by names of trees. State views of various trees were shown by Arthur Smith, Marion County agricultural extension agent.

Politics
847,000 and Harold E. Stassen 121,000—but their names were on the ballot.

The Texas campaign manager for Taft—Henry Swiflet of Fort Worth—said in Dallas he will throw his support to Gen. Douglas MacArthur if Taft doesn't win the nomination in July. Supporters of Taft and MacArthur in the Lone Star State plan to meet soon to work out some kind of an alliance.

Taft Speaks Out
Taft, interviewed on the recorded Mutual radio program "Reporters Roundup," said Eisenhower has no excuse for not speaking out on the issues and predicted if the general wins the nomination, he'll be a weak candidate—like Dewey.

Dewey, in New York, predicted Eisenhower would get 95 of his state's 98 GOP delegates at the Chicago convention.

A row rocked the Colorado Eisenhower-for-president organization: the co-chairman fired the campaign manager. He refused to quit. The blowup came just 48 hours before the state convention meets to name 10 delegates to the Chicago pay-off parley.

The Democrats were active too, with Truman throwing out a hint at his news conference Thursday that he may soon break his silence and name his choice as the party's standard bearer. He said he has no candidate—but he repeated the phrase "at the present time" four times in making the statement.

Operations were a decided risk . . .
life expectancy was low . . .
many diseases were fatal . . .
and nagging aches and pains and a general run-down condition were just a curse of the middle forties . . .

but NOW . . . the discoveries of medical science have changed ALL that . . . much of the above was found to be due to nutritional anemia, and the system couldn't withstand the demands placed upon it . . . but now you can further protect your health by taking advantage of the health-building qualities of the sensational vitamin discovery B-12, now contained in

Ola-Beron-12

The ideal therapeutic for young and old — especially for people in their middle years . . . because it contains:

Bucyrians Give 117 Pints Of Blood

Special To The Star
BUCYRIUS—Bucyrus area residents donated 117 pints of blood here Wednesday at the third visit of 1952 of the Red Cross bloodmobile unit, Franklin Roberts, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter's blood bank committee, reported.

The total was 33 pints short of the goal of 150 pints and marked the third consecutive time that the goal was not reached. In January, 132 pints were obtained and 140 last month.

A total of 130 donors offered blood.

Farmer Addresses Meeting at Bucyrus

BUCYRIUS—Pearson Linn, Bucyrus area farmer and opponent of cooperatives, was guest speaker at a joint meeting of Bucyrus and Crestline Kiwanis Clubs held in St. Paul's Lutheran church here Tuesday night.

Linn, who is a member of the Crawford County Board of Education, charged that the cooperative movement is "not merely a business venture but a whole social and economic upheaval" and that 75 per cent of all cooperatives belong to the International Cooperative Alliance, which, Linn said, has branches in Russia and China.

CHRIST'S TRANSFIGURATION

And after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart. And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with Him.

Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for Thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him.

And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only. And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

Man Goes To Jail For His Dog, Not Once But Twice

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Dog's best friend is this man's worst enemy.

Twice Jennings has gone to jail for his dog, a 7-year-old Belgian Shepherd named Kobe.

Kobe likes to roam. Santa Monica has an ordinance that requires dogs to be on leash. Last year Kobe made the pound because of his gypsy feet. But Jennings was equal to the occasion. He climbed into the pound and released his pet. That may have endeared him to every youngster with a dog, but the court took a dim view of his action and placed Jennings on one year's probation.

Wednesday Kobe was loose again. Thursday he was in the pound, but his master hasn't been able to help him because he went behind bars for violating his probation. Jennings is still fighting. He says he will challenge the legality of the leash ordinance when he appears for a hearing.

ENTERTAINS CIRCLE

When Epworth Methodist Circle 5 met Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Warren Wise entertained in her home on E. Church St. Devotions were by Miss Gertrude Carleton. Mrs. Foster Pacific presented readings. A report was given of 55 sick calls made. Piano selections were played by Mrs. Wise, and Mrs. Grace Kennedy presented a piano solo. An auction sale was conducted for the benefit of the church building fund. A "birthday party" for the circle will be held May 28 at the home of Miss Carleton at 313 Summit St.

COURT MARTIALED. Capt. Carl J. Izard (above), 31, has been court martialed and dismissed under dishonorable conditions on charges growing out of his refusal to fly, the Air Force announced. Izard, a native of Magnolia, Miss., was found guilty of "insubordination and is the second Air Force pilot to be convicted for refusing to fly."

Seeking Early Verdict, Says Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R. Wis.) said Thursday he will seek a verdict "before the elections" in his two million dollar damage suit against Sen. Benton (D. Conn.).

Benton has also said he wants an early trial. Yesterday he filed in federal district court here a reply to the suit.

In it Benton denied he had made "malicious, false, slanderous or defamatory" statements about McCarthy and reiterated his accusations that the Wisconsin senator has committed fraud and perjury and engaged in deceit of the American people.

Next step in their court fight will be the taking of pre-trial depositions, at which McCarthy has announced he will serve as his own lawyer so he can personally cross-examine Benton.

McCarthy announced he would move today or Friday to subpoena Benton to the deposition hearing and added:

"I will ask Benton's attorneys to join with me in petitioning the court for an early trial, before the elections."

Both senators are up for re-election this year. The suit has climaxed a running fight between the two. Benton is sponsor of a resolution aimed at having McCarthy ousted from the Senate. McCarthy has filed a resolution calling for a Senate investigation of Benton, and has accused the Connecticut senator of trying to "smear" him and block "my fight to expose Communists in the government."

McCarthy seeks a million dollars' damages on each of two counts alleging libel, slander and conspiracy.

Rainfall in Feet—Not Inches

April Showers Just Bring More Rain in Some Areas

CHICAGO (AP)—They don't pay much attention to April showers in some places in the U.S.

They're accustomed to rain. Take, for instance, Valseltz, Ore., a company-owned lumber town. The source of weather news there used to report precipitation figures to newsmen. The stories customarily began: "In Valseltz, where they measure rainfall in feet instead of inches," this or that happened. (It rained, probably.)

In 1950, the count reached 168.11 inches—or, to use the storied yardstick, 14 feet. Bad Publicity

The giving out of such statistics has been halted. The company said the hiring of loggers and mill hands was getting a bit too tough. An Associated Press survey of a few of the nation's wettest spots naturally included Clearwater, Wash.

This is a logging community on the west side of the Olympic peninsula. Weather bureau records show the rainfall there averages 123.7 inches per year.

But neither drizzle nor down-pour can stay on their rainy day gear—metal hats and rubber or water-repellent clothing. Most of them also wear woolen underwear.

"No matter how cold and wet you get," they comment rather paradoxically, "you're always warm and dry."

Boots are standard equipment in Clearwater for everybody who goes outside. The frequency of days on the dark side has had an influence on architecture and interior decoration—large windows

Lecture-Recital Club Holds Yearly Guest Night Party

Annual spring party and Guest Night of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club was held Tuesday evening at the Country Club with 100 attending. The guests included 24 members of the Beethoven Club from Mt. Vernon and presented a program of music. Following the program, dessert was served from a table centered with an arrangement of red carnations and white snapdragons, and other flower arrangements decorated the room.

Mrs. Lloyd E. Lutz presided and presented the program chairman. Mrs. George Lane, who in turn introduced the Mt. Vernon guests, Mrs. Wendell Walker is the Beethoven Club President.

The guest chorus group presented numbers directed by Mrs. John Ewalt and accompanied by Mrs. Rosalind Stricker including compositions of Bach and Brahms, and an old English madrigal for the first section of the program, and songs with a spring theme by Klemm, Schumann and Gretton for the closing music.

A string ensemble was composed of Mrs. Jane Nedelek, Miss Mary Alice Shockey, Miss Phillip Thompson and Miss Marjorie Murphy. Vocal selections, compositions of Saint-Saens, Griffes and Cadman, were given by Miss Virginia Bone accompanied by Miss Marcelle Cooksey, and the pianist played two Debussy solos.

Members of the chorus included Elizabeth Tinkham, Marjorie Johnson, Edith West, Ruth Barr, Emily Gordon, Belinda Beam, Constance Holcombe, Lois Giles, Harriet Walker, Helen Crumley, Louise Williams, Ida Miskala, Ruth Bader, Miriam Grubb, Mary Frary, and Marguerite Cochran.

On the social committee for the party arrangements were Miss Doris Emptage and Mrs. M. E. Brown, Miss Polly Bigger, Miss Joy Miller, Mrs. Edward Weiss, and Mrs. Levi Welch.

City Accidents Show Decline

3-Month Total Under '51 Figure

Marion traffic accident totals for the first three months of 1952 ran slightly under those in 1951. Capt. Clyde H. Hardin of city police reported today.

There were 270 in January, February and March this year as compared with 283 for the same period the year before.

Marionites have been improving steadily this year so far, according to the figures. Police reported 107 city accidents in January, 87 in February, and 76 in March.

"If motorists and pedestrians would use a little more courtesy many accidents would be eliminated," said Capt. Hardin.

He listed a few ways Marion residents could help cut down the traffic totals:

Don't crowd the traffic lights. Make sure the light has changed and the way is clear before proceeding.

Use the corners to cross streets. Stay on curbs until the traffic light changes. Crowding out in-vites death.

Obey Marion's traffic signs. They're for your protection.

Marion Students On Honor List at OSU

Two Marion students and two from the area are listed on the honor roll of 288 students achieving high scholastic attainments in Ohio State University's College of Commerce and Administration during the winter quarter.

The Marion students are Paul F. Beery and Maurice E. Mettler Jr. Jeanne L. Dayley and John W. Dayley Jr. of Marysville are also listed.

Adventist Church Conference Set

The 18th biennial session of the Ohio Conference of the Seventh Day Adventist Church will be held Sunday at Mt. Vernon in the physical education auditorium of the Mt. Vernon Academy.

Delegates from the Marion church are Elder D. S. Thurston, H. W. Johnston, L. B. Hill, Dr. Maude L. Bull, Mrs. Ada Denman and Mrs. Minnie Grosso.

More than 400 delegates representing the 88 Adventist Churches in Ohio are expected to attend. Officers will be elected for two-year terms, and reports will be made on activities of the closing biennial period.

Doreas Federation Meets in Galion

A total of 362 garments were given to needy families in the first quarter of 1952. It was reported by the Marion Doreas Society's leader, Mrs. Belle Lee, at a recent meeting of the Doreas Federation at the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Representatives from 12 churches attended the federal meeting held in Galion at a gave reports on their work.

Mrs. Lee also reported that $29 in cash had been expended for local welfare and $25 in groceries given to a needy family.

The meaning of Doreas was given by Elder D. S. Thurston. He explained that Doreas is a Bible character known for her good works.

Prison Reform, the Hard Way

THE terms of settlement drawn up by mutinous inmates of Southern Michigan Prison and accepted by state authorities look like a model program of prison reform.

Their publication is notice to many citizens on the outside that prison inmates still possess and cherish certain rights which even incarceration cannot take away from them.

While it is generally assumed, sometimes through ignorance, that no prison is run in this age by penal code of a century ago, the demands of the Southern Michigan prisoners raise a doubt.

Even human beings locked up from their wrong-doing cannot be handled by a civilized society as if they had ceased to need certain elemental securities and decencies. Progressive administrators of penal systems long have known that smoldering resentment against unfairness and inhuman treatment is the most dangerous and most costly problem which can exist inside a large penitentiary.

Hard as it is to condone a prison riot anywhere, the net result of the recent riots in New Jersey and Michigan may be more prison reform than could be brought about by a dozen pious resolutions of good intentions.

Ever Upward

WHILE the secretary of commerce in Harry Truman's cabinet decides how to carry out his chief's orders to induce a new round of inflation by raising the cost of producing the same amount of steel, the Office of Price Stabilization also is compromising its own integrity.

It has dangled a $3 increase per ton in the price of steel in front of the steel industry. This is the increase the industry is entitled to claim under the Capper amendment. But—and this is significant—the industry has not claimed it.

Its spokesmen had gone on record in favor of stabilization. That is why United Steelworkers can charge that it had received no offer of increases; the industry had no intention of offering increases. It thus came in conflict with two powerful antagonists.

One of these, United Steelworkers, is in the business of getting everything it can get, which is all right. That is collective bargaining, though it is not always economic statesmanship.

The other antagonist is the Truman administration, which is in the business of keeping the inflationary spiral moving ever upward, so it can meet its ever-growing rate of spending with ever-cheaper money.

The Truman administration and United Steelworkers combined forces, through the Wage Stabilization Board, to reach their common goal. The office of Price Stabilization now is being rushed to the rescue, plus the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Department of Justice.

Inflation must go on and on—ever upward.

How many departments and independent offices in Washington are being rushed to your rescue?

The Right To Say It

THE newspapers of the country and their employees are understandably concerned about the implication in President Truman's recent comment that he might seize them someday under circumstances similar to those which caused him to seize the steel industry.

The real reason for their concern is the fact he seized the steel industry because he did not agree with a position it had taken.

That has been the reason politicians always have cited for seizing newspapers—because they did not agree with the newspapers.

There is no case on record of any politician's seizing or suppressing a newspaper which was agreeing with him.

In the Civil War, the New York World and the Chicago Times had been outspokenly critical of Abraham Lincoln. The commander of the Department of Ohio in the Union army, Gen. Ambrose Everett Burnside, lost his head and suppressed both papers. When Lincoln heard of it, he called off the dogs as far as the Times was concerned; Burnside also withdrew his order against the World.

Lincoln, himself, took action later against the World and the New York Journal of Commerce for publishing what later proved to be a forgery purporting to be a presidential proclamation. The New Orleans Time Picayune was a victim of the same hoax and was suspended. Even in connection with this serious affront to presidential dignity, however, Lincoln had deep misgivings.

In recent years, there have been no seizures. But sooner or later every President has become so peevish about criticism that he has made recent of his desire to get even. The animosity is there. The "right to say it" is questioned sharply by those who disagree entirely with what is being said. Mr. Truman is the only President in modern times to hint that he might take a whim some day to monkey with the right.

14 Hoover Years

By Raymond Moley

Memoirs Offer Sound Lesson for Present

AMONG THE BOOKS that might be read with profit by General Eisenhower before he returns to his native grounds is the second volume of "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover," just published. For our only living ex-President once occupied a position much like that of General Eisenhower when he returned to the United States after the war. Hoover tells how, in 1919, he and his family returned from Europe in the fond hope of enjoying a spell of quiet, private family life. This dream was quickly dispelled by the demands of a tide of popularity which exceeded that of any other hero of the first World War. The demands upon Hoover were as great as those that fell upon Eisenhower in 1945.

Hoover and his family planned and built a house according to the specifications of their dreams. But they found little time in the next fourteen years to occupy it. He solemnly made rules for the husbanding of his time and energy. Those rules remained dead letter until 1933. Despite his reluctance at first, he was swept back into the whirl of public life. He escaped the infection of Presidential candidacy but soon found himself in the cabinet of a new President. He was assigned to Washington's enervating atmosphere for twelve chaotic years.

THE STORY OF those years fills the body of the book, and Hoover's ideas of government service written there might well instruct the new hero who seeks a like career. But more important to him is Hoover's way with the ups and downs of personal popularity. According to Hoover, the span of life is not measured in periods of seven years, as in Joseph's interpretation of the Pharaoh's dream. Instead, Hoover was doomed to fourteen fat years of popularity followed by fourteen years of personal ordeal like the one of which have been endured by few public figures in our history. A revealing footnote in the book says:

"My period of popularity lasted nearly fourteen years, which seems about the average. When the ultimate bump came, I was well fortified to accept it philosophically and, in fact, to welcome it, for democracy is a harsh employer."

"IN THE ENSUING period, also of fourteen years, I succeeded in reaching fairly deep unpopularity in consequence of the depression, fighting the New Deal, opposing World War II and its subsequent political policies. But after this second term of fourteen years some people began to think I had been right, and life was more complimentary."

The end of Hoover's "winter of discontent" was roughly 1947, when the American people began to see clearly the rugged lineaments of Hoover's Quaker character and faith. It is not without significance that President Truman helped in this restoration by calling upon the ex-President for new public service. For Truman, despite his shortcomings as a President and his unbecoming fits of vindictive rage, proved to be a more generous opponent than did F.D.R. But it was neither the President nor the public that made the "new" Hoover. It was the character of the man and the American ideals in which he believed that finally prevailed.

General Eisenhower may or may not become President. But he faces an ordeal not unlike that which Hoover endured. He had better be ready with a stout heart and a clear head.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Enoch Clark, one of the earliest settlers in the north part of Marion County, was born in Connecticut on May 30, 1792. He emigrated west in 1819, settling in Union County and in February 1821 moved to Salt Rock Township where he entered 60 acres of land, at the same time entering 80 acres in Grand Township. He contributed liberally to the building of the Big Island Union Church and also the Baptist Church east of Pleasant Hill. He erected a mill on Enoch Creek, which years before was named for him, and operated it about 20 years. For many years he handled stock and in early days bought and drove hogs to the cities on the lake where he butchered and packed them.

Constitutional Crisis

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON
AMERICA IS face to face with the gravest constitutional crisis in its entire history.

The question is whether constitutional government—that is, government by law instead of by the whim of a president—shall survive. The issue really is whether the President can do as he pleases and go unchecked.

President Truman has committed acts that present a "case for impeachment" under the constitution, which provides for such action by a majority vote of the House of Representatives. He has seized private property "without due process of law." Whether he should or should not be removed is a question that the Constitution says shall be determined, after a trial, by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

To say that the President shall not be indicted by the House of Representatives because there is some doubt whether the case would result in removal, is tantamount to saying that nobody shall be accused hereafter by a grand jury because in the subsequent trial he or she might possibly be acquitted. That has not been the course of justice heretofore in America in civil cases either.

SOME ADMINISTRATION supporters are saying that the steel case is not a matter for impeachment but for decision eventually by the Supreme Court of the United States in a case brought in the customary way. But those who make that statement are overlooking the fact that the President of the United States apparently cannot be restrained by a court order against committing acts for which he claims authority under "inherent powers." If there were a specific law involved and he had done something under a given statute whose words could be reviewed by a court to determine whether the authority of that law had been exceeded, it would be a different matter. For the agent of the President, the secretary of commerce, could then be restrained by a court injunction.

But an act committed by the executive under so-called "inherent powers" is something different, and it might be years before a court case could be devised that would cover the explicit points involved.

Since the President claims "inherent powers" and there is no way of effectively serving him personally with a court order there is no choice left to Congress but to impeach him and try the case now with the Senate acting as a court.

to allow his cabinet officers and the heads of executive agencies to testify before the Senate Judiciary committee, which merely has sought to study academically the powers of seizure. When a President does not even cooperate in the making of a study of his powers by the legislative branch and declines even to defend his legal reasoning or to explain it, he emphasizes how far America has drifted toward a concept of the presidency which plainly ignores the coordinate status of the Congress as an integral part of the American constitutional system of checks and balances.

THE ARGUMENTS against applying the impeachment process are not only a revelation of the lengths to which executive usurpation has already gone in America, but they disclose also the supineness of the legislative branch itself and the tendency to acquiesce in the "king can do no wrong" philosophy. Even inside the Republican party councils there is timidity.

It is specifically significant that so many members of the Democratic party, which historically has fought against centralization of government in Washington and particularly against an enlargement of the powers of the President, now should be passive and acquiescent in the assumption by Mr. Truman of the right to seize private property without a law. Even in his letter to Congress this week Mr. Truman writes as if he doesn't understand the constitutional issues involved. He says that to have invoked the Taft-Hartley act would not have been fair to the CIO. But is that the standard of measurement in deciding what statutes to use or what unauthorized powers to invoke? Isn't the criterion rather what is fair to everybody, including the owners of private property in America?

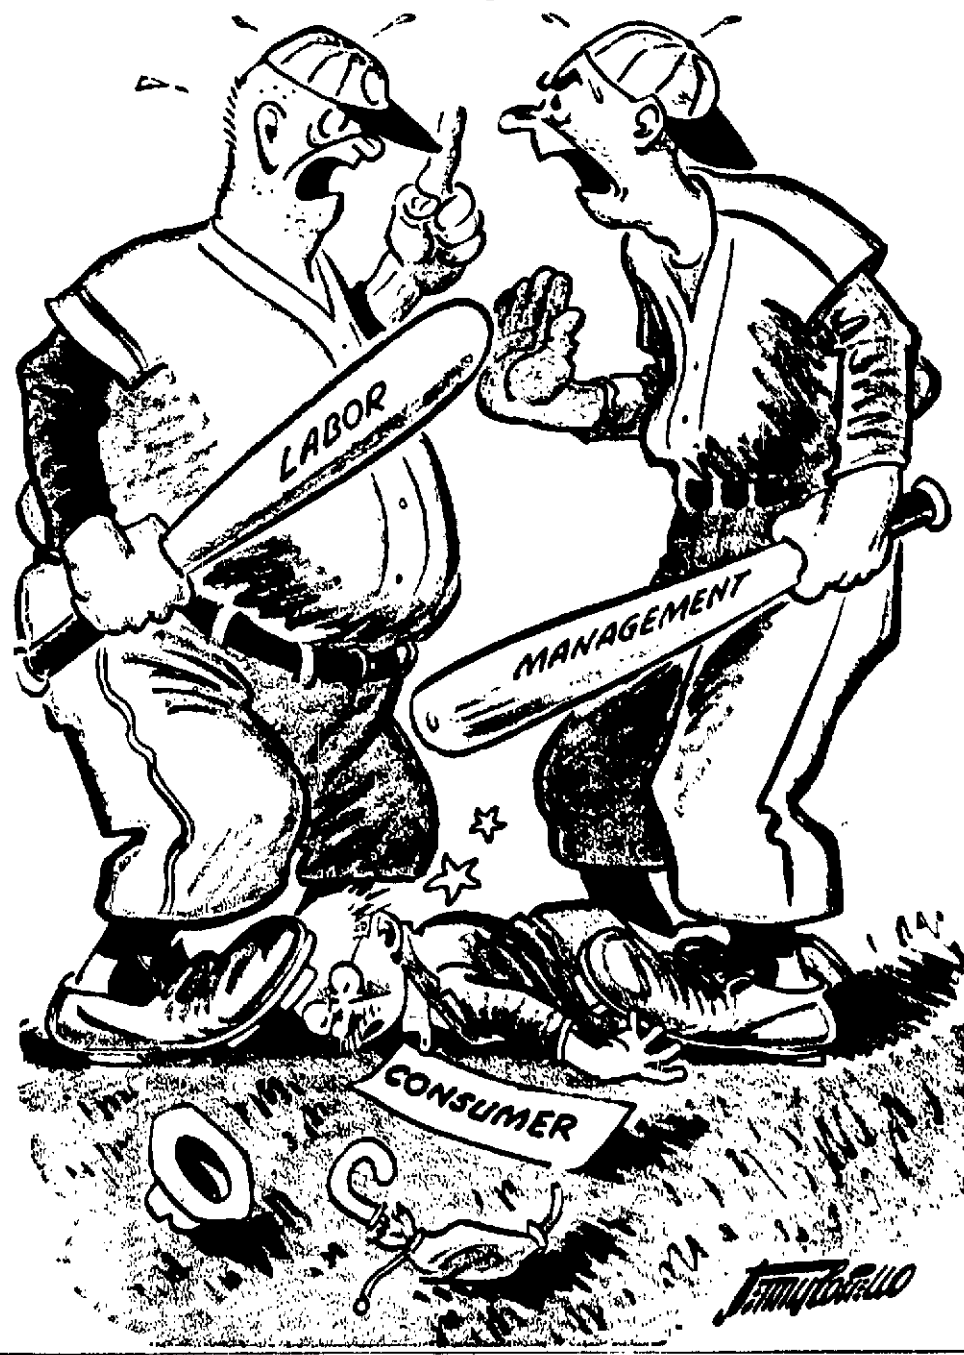

There need be nothing personal or partisan in the impeachment process or in bringing the case to trial. It would be refreshing indeed, and have a salutary effect on the course of future presidents, if they became acquainted with the fact that there still is such a thing as impeachment—that there is a check against any assumption of power by the president.

Aw, Let Up, Fellas

The Campaign and Foreign Policy

By George E. Sokolsky

THE CENTER of the debate in the Presidential campaign is the foreign policy. The ambition of the internationalists is so to arrange the affairs of both parties that no discussion of foreign policy occurs. The same forces which created the fiction of a bipartisan foreign policy in 1944 and 1948 are now active in both parties to nominate candidates who will be silent on this one subject.

This group consists of two principal factors, namely, Wall Street banking houses with vast international connections and the business affiliates; and a number of newspaper and magazine publishers who were associated with the Wendell Willkie campaign in 1940.

It would seem that the general objective of this political operation is to have a candidate who will support the policy that has been pursued by this country since 1938, when Roosevelt shifted from apparent neutrality to active partisanship. The tone of the current attitude was best expressed by Averell Harriman on an "America's Town Meeting" discussion when he said:

"JUST A MINUTE. We've made lots of mistakes and I'm sure you've made lots of mistakes. But what we're talking about is what we learned from the mistakes, and where we're going for the future."

"Let's talk about the future, not about the past..." In a word, these people want no examination of their costly errors. Their attitude is that no matter what a mistake costs in wealth and human life, no one is responsible for it; the citizen who pays in sons and taxes must be silent. Mr. Harriman has been present at most of the conferences under both Roosevelt and Truman which brought upon us our misfortunes, but he does not feel responsible. He got experience.

WHAT WE REALLY need to do is to resolve that every man associated with the errors which began at Teheran should be eliminated from public life. The curious thing about it is that the Europeans hardly take seriously the consequences of our errors. The following paragraph from the British "The Contemporary Review" is typical of the European reaction to our problems:

"It is understandable that the United States should feel in a more militant and crusading mood towards Communism than the rest of the Anglo-Saxon world and Europe. The latter is more disposed to fight Communism by other methods than open war if this is at all possible. No doubt this is still the view of the majority in the United States. But the United States is still a country where New England preachers can get up moral crusades, where the spirit of the early Mayflower settlers and of the Scottish Covenanters can exercise a powerful influence on public opinion. The history of the United States is full of this sort of phenomenon—Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous anti-slavery novel, the Abolitionists, and the campaign against

A Debt To Pay

By TRUMAN TWILL

About as close as most of us ever come to the original festivity of May Day in this settled and sedate land is the first weekend of summery weather in springtime.

The highest degrees of indulgence is the planting of seeds, bulbs, seedlings and sproutings. While this becomes routine to farmers and nurserymen, it is always an emotional experience for those of us whose contacts with the good earth are seasonal.

A sizable project of this kind was begun over the last weekend at the Twillery — hundreds of multiflora rose plants which are to be the beginning of a rose hedge. This hedge will be a substitute about five years from now for a section of wire fence which will be in ruins by that time.

Many miles of these living fences are being established throughout this part of the country. Not only do they become useful for fencing in stock but also as refuges for birds. Conservationists esteem them as the best known means for combining utility to both man and nature.

Americans have not always understood the importance of this balance between what men need and what nature needed. They betrayed nature and in so doing betrayed themselves as nature's dependents.

Only in recent years have Americans begun to think about undoing some of the damage done by the pioneers who pillaged the land of everything that grew, with no thought of replacement. Even now, only a bare beginning toward a state of compatibility with the source of all wealth has been made.

Countless dollars' worth of denuded soil is being lost in the great floods in the Missouri valley. Much more will be blown away by the wind. There is that, too, to mull over in the springtime while repairing a patch of turf, planting a shrub, or dressing a wound on the breast of Mother Earth. It is little enough that a man can do to make more beautiful and fruitful what lies within his small province. He and his fellows have a heavy debt to pay for damages.

But it is more than enough that when he lends a hand he should feel so good in his heart, even though so lame in his back.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The President and the Press

Despite what has been said about it, Harry Truman is too smart to take over the press, even in his most taking mood. The Democrats may think they can run almost anything, but they know the newspaper business is one that has far too many headaches. If Harry seized even the small-town newspaper tomorrow he would be glad to drop it, apologize, admit it's error and take an oath never to do it again inside of a week. We can imagine the result.

First Day—He arrives to find that two able case lawyers, a man with a knife and four recent journalism school students seeking immediate jobs as star reporters are in the corridor. He finds the cost of white paper has gone up again. The picture of an old friend gets in upside down. A proofreader fails to catch the line "Society Leader at Lawn Fete" over a race horse. He gets word of another jump in ink costs. A press breaks down.

Second Day—The weather forecast gets in under the blankets. The ordinary column comes out with the prophesy "Tomorrow, rain and warmer." His secretary tells him four lawyers, claiming libel and a man with a gun are in the corridor demanding to see him at once. Part of the stock market table gets in upside down. Forty readers call him by phone to get an announcement about a picnic clambake on Wednesday on Page One.

Third Day—An all-out fight for a great cause in the public interest brings him a host of letters denouncing him as a star-eyed visionary and Moscow tool. He finds he has lost 15 pounds and developed a new ulcer. He gets one letter praising him for able newspaper work and 36 with complaints that he spelled a bride's maiden name wrong, printed the temperature incorrectly and ran a classified ad with a semicolon missing. He is notified of another price rise in white paper and ink.

Fourth Day—Nine readers kick because he won't give them free publicity. He discovers the constantly rising costs of publication are making it a trick to break even, but gets a couple of letters denouncing him as a selfish capitalist. Two star reporters report sick. He develops a new ulcer.

Fifth Day—He checks and finds that after getting in debt up to his neck in giving the public a good newspaper and fighting for every needy cause in the book, his bank account is overdrawn, he has high blood pressure and could have made more money as a ball-park peanut vendor. Another press breaks down. The baseball score gets in wrong. An old subscriber cancels his subscription because a notice of a lodge meeting wasn't carried satisfactorily. He fires all advisers who told him he should take over a newspaper and enters the nearest hospital for nervous disorders.

The Harding High School band won a rating of "excellent," second highest given, at the annual Ohio High School competition festival for school bands in Columbus. It was one of nine competing in Class A.

TWENTY YEARS AGO - It was Monday, April 25, 1932.

The Anti-Saloon League of Ohio formally endorsed the May primary campaign with a statement prepared for publication listing its favorite state candidates.

It was announced that "The Haunted House," a mystery farce comedy, would be presented by the Marion Mimes, little theater organization, at the David St. Playhouse on May 3. Saxon Kling, playwright and actor, a former Marion man who had performed on Broadway, was directing the production. In the cast were Mrs. Frances Hume, Mrs. Katherine Myers, Mrs. Marion Knappenberger, Ernest Aindt, Paul Knappenberger, W. W. Clarke, Ralph Hinklin, Boyd Thaworth, D. W. Yambert, Robert Uncapher and Asa Queen.

Mrs. Mary Ella Lindsey, 68, died at her home on Wallace St.

Two youthful bandits held up R. L. Young at his gasoline service station on E. Center St. and escaped with $40.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Turns out the major surprise in the New York primaries was the number of citizens surprised to find the bars were closed.

One fellow after having rattled the door knobs at six places said, "Don't tell me he has seized the saloons, too!"

The primary results were about as expected and one additional result was that hundreds of men were home early for dinner, dry and dusty.

One woman said "I always plan seven o'clock dinner for nine o'clock and here you walk in at six expecting to eat right on time at eight."

Her husband snarled, "Blame it on the politicians."

Anyway, Ike got the primary vote and Harriman got his campaign hat blocked.

Averell indicates he will run on Mr. Truman's record... he's going after the nomination the hard way.

Tax Refunds Slower In Coming Back

WASHINGTON, (AP)—If you haven't received your income tax refund this year, you have plenty of company.

The government is running about three million checks behind last year in disgorging its annual golden flood of taxes in reverse.

Many officials told a report on Thursday revenue bureau is giving refund requests a closer scrutiny than usual this year, thus causing a lag.

But don't worry too much—the rate of output is stepping up rapidly. Paul Banning, chief disbursing officer for the treasury, estimated about eight million checks will be mailed in April and nine million in May.

From the start of the fiscal year last July 1 through April 17, the treasury dropped 16,200,000 refund checks into the mail. During the same period last year, it sent out 18,900,000 individual income tax refunds.

The average refund is bigger this year—$60.72 compared with $50.38 last year. The dollar total through April 17 this year was 983,000,000 compared with 945,000,000 at the same point last year.

Officials expect this pattern to continue for the year as a whole—fewer but bigger refund checks.

They estimate taxpayers will get back from the government 30,250,000 checks this year totalling $2,100,000,000. Last year, the government paid out 31,000,000 checks, totalling two billion dollars.

The word "head" stems from a root which means to pray and it was only gradually that it came to apply to ornaments which were not prayer heads.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"Bess Conway and Carlotta Carroll" I said with emphasis of them has an Achilles heel — rare twin Eighth World War. Carlotta has her fear that comes from I don't believe either of harm may come to K, her husband has a twanging nerve in hand, while Bess confesses that her life she for the first time in her life she "FBI girls have their nerves is unreasonably afraid of that singed at the ends when they man, Terence McGovern, who is take over their jobs," Dicky rom following her, and who mented. "So they're fool-proof" covered that she is our friend. He doubtless knows that she is in sanctuary in my bedroom."

"And a fat lot of good that will do him, with Harry on his tail," Dicky said derisively. "What do you intend to do, keep her here until the time for our grand jamboree in New Haven?"

"I think that is Father's plan, I said. "He can't very well send her out on another assignment while this dangerous man is tailing her."

"Correct as the heated hinges of you-know where," Dicky said with a twisted grin. "Well! It looks if you'll be able to join the routine of your nursing home yourself for a few days. There'll be nothing much doing until Carlotta sounds the tocsin for you to rally round the Brixton household."

I did not contradict him. I was glad that he could solace his own anxiety with that premise. But I knew that as long as Lillian cherished her obsession, so long would she be plotting to see Ronald alone, something which I must prevent at any cost.

"Hint!" Dicky whispered with mock melodrama. "I hear footsteps."

I heard them also—the light footsteps of a woman coming down the corridor—and I came up from my chair swiftly.

"Katharine, I'm sure," I said and advanced to the door with Dicky close behind me. We reached it just in time to meet my kinswoman whose face, I saw with joyous relief, was no longer etched with lines of anxiety, was, instead, serene, almost happy.

"That father of yours!" she exclaimed, but keeping her voice muted. "He's an old miracle worker! He's managed to smooth out my jitters, and even to make me believe that, if I can behave myself, I may be able to have my cake and eat it too—you know what I mean?"

"Indeed I do," I told her. "Your husband—and that hapless baby, Young Peter. Father thinks you may have them both—if you watch your step. Well! I'm probably going to be stuck around here for several days, and you'll watch your step, or else."

She laughed comfortably, and I saw that, indeed, she was herself again.

"I've always said your talents were wasted," she said. "You'd make a brutally wonderful motor of a concentration camp."

She caught up my hand and pulled me toward the living room.

"Your father is telephoning for Adams to take me back upstairs," she said, "so we'd better get back to the living room."

We hurried along the corridor, and went through the door which Katharine had left open. My father was standing in the middle of the room.

"Adams is coming for Katharine at once," he said. "When he comes back, he will stop for me. I really must go, now that everything is settled."

Girls To Receive FFA State Homemaker Degree

Four Pleasant School Students To Be Honored

JEAN CLICK

MARY SUE PILKINGTON

VIRGINIA WICK

KATHRYN SHORTER

Four members of the Pleasant High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America will be awarded degrees of state Homemaker at a reception tonight at the Doshier-Wallick Hotel in Columbus. The girls are Jean Click, Mary Sue Pilkington and Virginia Wick, all of new Marion, and Kathryn Shorter of new Prospect

The State Homemaker degree is the highest degree conferred by the FFA since the American Homemaker degree is no longer granted. To achieve the degree, a member must be active in Future Homemaker on a local and state level and must have won awards by carrying out individual chapter and group projects.

The degree reception will precede the annual state FFA meeting to be held Saturday in Columbus. Other Pleasant FFA members who will take part in the program tonight are Rosemary Mautz, who will do baton twirling and Ruth Burton, who will take part in conferring the degrees. Both girls were previously awarded State Homemaker degrees.

A member of National Honor Society, Jean belongs to the school band, girls glee club and chorus and is on the staff of the school paper. She has been a cheerleader for five years. For her home projects she assumed complete charge of her home for several months and planned and prepared all family meals.

Will Head Pleasant Chapter

Mary Sue Pilkington, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pilkington of new Marion. She is president-elect of the Pleasant FFA Chapter, for which she is now public relations chairman. Her home projects were child care, planning and preparing family meals and full care of the home.

Miss Porter Is Advisor

Miss Marjorie Porter, home economics teacher, is advisor of the Pleasant chapter. Other Pleasant FFA members who will attend the meeting in Columbus are Jo Ann Micheli, Roberta Shorter, Jacquelyn McEllum and Nancy Newell.

All four girls who will receive state degrees tonight are members of the junior class at Pleasant High School.

Jean Click, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Click, is 17.

Truman

seizure of the steel industry to prevent a strike.

Official Explanation

The important thing the President wanted to emphasize, Tubby said, nearly three hours later, was that Russia listened to a strong America and that he had to seize the steel industry to keep up the production necessary to building up this country's strength.

The President he said was referring to United States leadership in the United Nations, particularly in the Security Council and through diplomatic channels.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who was Secretary of State at the time the move to Russia was dispatched, said in a statement he was "confident" that Truman did not mean a threat to use force.

Byrnes said in his statement:

I think he (Truman) had reference to the fact that with the approval of the President I personally revised Premier Stalin on December 19, 1945 that if the Soviets did not withdraw their troops from Iran in accordance with their solemn promise made at Tehran in 1942 and if the Truman government filed a protest with the United Nations, that we would support Iran in the assembly and in the Security Council.

"When the Soviets did not withdraw their troops by the end of six months after the Japanese surrender and Iran filed a protest I appeared before the Security Council on March 18, 1946 and urged the council to recommend the immediate withdrawal of Soviet troops."

Adopted Suggestion

The council adopted the suggestion of the United States government. In a very short time the Soviets withdrew their troops. My action in this matter was taken after conference with the President."

Tubby said the note of March 8, 1946, was a major factor in bringing about Soviet withdrawal from Iran.

It wasn't the first time the White House press office had been moved to clarify presidential remarks.

Newsman recalled the firing of Henry A. Wallace as secretary of commerce on Sept. 20, 1946 after a mixup over a news conference statement by President Truman that he had read and approved a speech by Wallace attacking what Wallace called the "Get tough with Russia" policy.

They recalled also Truman's statement at a news conference on Nov. 30, 1946 about the possibility of using the atomic bomb in Korea after "clarified" as implying no change in policy.

In the Wallace case, Truman told reporters he had approved Wallace's speech. Two days later he issued a statement saying he meant that he had approved Wallace's right to make the speech but not the speech as a statement of policy. Six days later the President fired Wallace, reportedly at the insistence of the then Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

A-Bomb Scare

Truman's Nov. 30, 1946 news conference remarks on the use of the atomic bomb created world-wide concern. Former Prime Minister Attlee came here from Great Britain to talk it over.

Truman had said that the United States would fight on in Korea with every means at its disposal — including the atomic bomb, if necessary. In reply to a question, he said the use of the A-bomb was already under active consideration.

The White House explained later that use of the atom bomb had not been authorized and that Truman's comment did not represent any change in the situation.

Last October there was a clarification of Truman's news conference remarks about his order directing civilian as well as military agencies to withhold information from the public which they thought might endanger the nation's security.

In a free exchange with newsmen, Truman denied he was trying to suppress news and said editors should even withhold information in some cases when it was made public by the defense and other departments.

Shortly afterward Press Secretary Joseph P. Kamp said that he "clarified" the situation by saying it was safe to publish information put out for publication by responsible officials qualified to judge its relationship to security.

Just Thursday, Sen. Moody (D-Mich.) a Washington newspaperman until he was appointed senator last year, introduced a resolution proposing an inquiry into Truman's security order on public information. He suggested that a study of government censorship be made by a subcommittee of the government operations committee with help from an advisory council of five to seven correspondents.

Fifth of Ohio To Go On Fast Time Sunday

Many Towns Still Undecided About Moving Up Clocks

COLUMBUS (AP)—Only about one-fifth of Ohio will switch to Daylight Saving Time Sunday. The area affected includes all or parts of 18 counties in the northeastern and eastern sections of the state, an Associated Press survey shows. Many small towns have not yet decided to use fast or slow time. Some will vote on the subject in the May 6 primary. The change involves advancing the clock one hour—at 2 a.m. Sunday in most cases. The fast time will continue until Sept. 28. Ohio has no state law governing the change, so most municipalities decide it by ordinance. Organized labor and industry generally favor Daylight Saving Time. City dwellers like the extra daylight for golf and other recreation.

Farmers complain fast time means wasting an hour in the morning. They don't like to change dawn-to-dusk schedules of feeding, milking and tending crops. In Mansfield, a drive-in theater operator is seeking an injunction against a city ordinance establishing the fast time. The operator, William Mosser, says fast time delays darkness an hour and customers don't want to miss sleep to see the show. A hearing on the injunction was scheduled today. Cleveland and all of Cuyahoga County switch to Daylight Saving Time annually. So do Youngstown and Akron. But cities like Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton and Canton are sticking to slow time. All or sections of these counties will make the change. Richmond, Ashland, Lorain, Medina, Cuyahoga, Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga, Erie, Summit, Portage, Trumbull, Mahoning, Stark, Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Tuscarawas. Fast time was ordered nationally in the United States during World War I. But opposition from farmers forced its repeal in 1919. It was brought back again during World War II and dropped again right after Japan surrendered.

GOATS RESCUED AS FOREST FIRE BURNS HOME. As her home blazes in background, Mrs. F. S. Custer, aided by neighbors, loads her goats to safety from path of a forest fire near Brunswick, Mo. Over 600 acres of woodland and three homes were destroyed before the blaze was brought under control.

Marion Area Oilmen Attend Dealer Meeting
Ten Shell Service Station dealers from the Marion area attended the Shell spring dealer meeting in Lima Tuesday. They were William Chard, H. E. Courtney and Robert Bruno, Marion; Roy Cotsamire and Leo Turner, Bucyrus; Hubert Metzger, Crestline; Paul Miller, Iberia; Tim Richardson, Waldo; Ralph Healea, Mt. Gilead. The company's advertising program was explained and a new rest room program announced. The dealers also saw a slide film made up of outstanding photographs from "The Oil Men," a new picture book about the oil industry which tells the story of petroleum in terms of people.

Stassen Closes Headquarters In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), who is backing Harold E. Stassen for the Republican presidential nomination, said today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chances to win it are better than those of any other candidate. On the other hand, Sen. Young (R-ND) said he thinks Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio "is going to give Eisenhower a very close run" for top place on the GOP ticket "and certainly can't be counted out." Young, a Taft supporter, added: "You hear some talk about Taft slipping, but I can't see that he has." Thye told a reporter: "I believe Dan Gurney made a completely accurate appraisal of the situation in saving Eisenhower has the best chance to be nominated." Gurney, a leader of the Stassen-for-president movement, made the statement Thursday in announcing the closing of Stassen's Washington headquarters for economy reasons. Gurney said he was not counting Stassen out of the race for the nomination, but indicated he believes Eisenhower will win. Thye is chairman of the Minnesota delegation to the Republican national nominating convention in July. The delegation is pledged to Stassen as the winner of Minnesota's GOP presidential primary. In state presidential primaries held so far, Stassen has trailed Eisenhower and Taft in all but the Minnesota contest.

Locate New Hardin School In Dunkirk

SPECIAL TO THE STAR
KENTON—The high school for the recently created Hardin Northern School District will be located in Dunkirk. It was decided by the district board of education at a recent meeting, Mervyn Pees, executive head of the Washington-Cassia, Dola, School, was selected as the executive of the high school. Hobart Hinkle, executive of the Blanchard-Pleasant, Dunkirk, School, will head the elementary school at Dola.

The Hardin Central District was made by the merger of the Dola and Dunkirk districts, each of which maintained their separate high schools during the present school year.

Starting next fall, pupils of grades 1 through 5 will attend the building as previously, all pupils of grades 6, 7 and 8 will be assigned to the former Dola school, and all high school students will attend the building in Dunkirk, the board ruled.

The newly formed high school will be the largest in the Hardin County school system.

New Director Elected By Ohio Edison

J. Robert Groff, president and general manager of the James Lefell & Co., of Springfield, was elected a director of Ohio Edison Co., and all other directors were re-elected, at the annual meeting of stockholders of the company held in Akron Thursday. The company serves Marion and vicinity as well as many other sections of the state.

The directors, at their annual organization meeting which followed, re-elected all officers of the company.

Directors re-elected are: A. C. Bilna, Otto Brunenmeister Jr., J. C. Costello, E. A. Oberlin, J. C. Robertson, W. H. Sammis, Samuel Stiles and J. A. Strozier, all of Akron; H. E. Miller, Springfield; G. L. Draffan, Mansfield; Walter Bender and Rufus Moses, both of Youngstown; R. E. Burger and John S. Taber, both of New York City.

Officers re-elected are W. H. Sammis, president; J. C. Costello, assistant to the president; Samuel Stiles, H. E. Miller, Rufus Moses, J. A. Strozier, vice-presidents; G. E. Silder, chief engineer; D. Bruce Mansfield, general counsel; Otto Brunenmeister Jr., comptroller; L. L. Wells, secretary; M. W. Thorne, treasurer; L. G. Pultman and A. E. Wafer, assistant comptrollers; C. M. Tillett, assistant secretary; and T. A. Lucchesi, assistant treasurer.

The board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of $1.14 per share on the 4-56 per cent preferred stock payable June 2 to stockholders of record May 15. This is the first dividend on this series of preferred stock since its issuance in March, 1952.

STREET REPAIRS PLANNED
UPPER SANDUSKY — Blacktop resurfacing was approved on recommendation of the street committee in a recent municipal council meeting here for needed repairs to six sections of Upper Sandusky streets.

Council Discusses Health of Child

The health of the child in the community was discussed by the Pleasant Neighbors Farm Bureau Council when members met Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Beaver of near Marion.

It was reported that the number of children vaccinated for smallpox, chickenpox, whooping cough, diphtheria and other childhood diseases is relatively small. Parents were urged to have their children vaccinated even though these diseases are not prevalent at the present time.

Parents were reminded to be sure their children drink pasteurized milk and pure, uncontaminated water. The sewage disposal system should be in the best condition also, members were told.

Discussion leader Vernon Beaver conducted the topic on the health of children, as well as the topic on the telephone rate increases, which the council opposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laucher were in charge of contests. Prizes were won by Mrs. Merle Lashey and Mrs. Giles Hoch.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lashey and son David. The next meeting will be children vaccinated even though these diseases are not prevalent at the present time.

The invention of baseball is credited to Abner Doubleday in 1839.

GRADUATES HEAR SPEAKER

Reports were made and plans for May activities were discussed when the Women's Missionary Society met at St. John's Lutheran Church, Windfall, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. William Coburn and Mrs. Homer Ebert were the program leaders. The former presented an editorial and articles from the church publication. Bible study was led by the pastor, the Rev. Luther Muehlbradt. Mrs. Ebert reported on the North Central Group board meeting at Bucyrus April 2.

Reports on the thanksgiving project was made by Mrs. Lowell Binger, and on the box sent to the New Guinea Commissary by Mrs. Coburn. An invitation to attend the meeting of the Emanuel society in Marion May 15 was accepted. Announcement was made of the Mother's Day program for the congregation and friends at the church May 11 at 8 p.m. Colored slides on medical mission work in New Guinea and of work in India will be shown. Mrs. Ebert and Mrs. Wilbur Heinlich will be the program leaders.

Kansas City Now Winning Flood Fight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City area was over the hump Friday in its fight against the Missouri River, but flood workers still maintained a vigil along the network of dikes for possible weak spots.

The flood-choked river continued to fall after reaching its peak here Thursday afternoon just a fraction under 30.7 feet. That was a little below the predicted crest of 31 and more than 10 feet under the top of the levees.

It was a record upstream flood until the muddy surge hit Kansas City. But from here on downstream the river stages were lower than the terrible flood of July, 1951, when the Kaw (Kansas) River, which joins the Missouri here, laid waste to the rich industrial area of the two Kansas Cities.

block . . . and worked us inside. Outside we could hear the cries of the mob. Someone said the laundry was burning, and the gym, and I don't know what else.

The screams and sirens of fire trucks suddenly wailed over the noise in the yard. You could see the inmates who were holding us tighten up. They stood tense and forward, peering out the window, and in a short time came the sound of shots.

Then the yard seem to break up in a mad frenzy all around us. It seemed that one of the convicts had been shot by state police and the mob moved down on 15 block.

"Give us a guard," they screamed. "One of our boys has been shot. Kill a guard."

The convicts with us argued but the mob only shouted the louder, and finally someone shrugged, and said, "What else can we do?"

Grab Guard

They caught hold of Henry Curry, opened the door and threw him out. We couldn't bear to look, yet we couldn't tear our eyes away. And I can say right now, thank God for our state police.

Their squads were operating in the yards by now and there never was a more alert group of men. They must have been on the watch for something just like what happened, for the minute they saw Curry pushed outside they made a drive outside 15 block.

And that was all it took. The mob broke and ran and Henry got away safely.

Hostages

I can't tell you much of what happened in the yards after that. They herded us right on up to the fourth tier. They put each of us in a separate cell. Jack Hyatt was in charge of our floor.

They call him "Crazy Jack." But you'll never get me to believe he's crazy. He treated us fine, and he handled those other guys with him like someone who had commanded men all his life.

Through all the time we were there, every so often he'd have to go out and stop a fight or put down some minor disturbance among his followers. He handled everything in a calm, routine manner and always had the situation under control.

Threatens Death

The last night they came around and took Jim Akins' and John Holmes' billfolds, watches and keys. Hyatt told us: "If you've got any last letters to write, you'd better do it now because you won't get another chance."

Hyatt was perfectly calm as he spoke. After he left I started praying again.

It was only a couple of hours later that the agreement was reached between the prison administration and the inmates. It seemed like a month. When we heard that it was all practically over, I felt like I had suddenly come back to life again.

"Forgotten Man" Dies In Mental Hospital

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UP)—"The forgotten man" of Missouri's state mental hospital No. 2 is dead.

For 55 years Chris Bally, admitted as a 17-year-old boy, was a patient in the institution. Hospital records showed that in those 55 years he never had a visitor.

On admittance, he told attendants he didn't know where he came from, "don't know where my parents are, have no idea if I have any brothers or sisters."

On his death at the age of 72 authorities started a search for relatives. None was found immediately.

SEES END OF STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal mediator said today a settlement appeared close in an 18-day strike of 6,000 Western Electric warehousemen and salesmen in 29 cities.

"All but a few minor issues have been settled; a lot of progress has been made," the spokesman told newsmen after more than 20 consecutive hours of bargaining and caucuses by negotiators.

The Risk is Greater Now

If you wonder why parking space is hard to find and traffic seems so heavy these days, just look at the figures. Cars on the road have increased by well over 21,000,000 in the last six years. Crowded highways produce more accidents. Repair costs are much higher, too. See us BEFORE you have an accident and need insurance.

U.S. City Planners To Assist India

BOSTON (UP)—A new city for India is being drafted on drawing boards at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass.

It is being created by three MIT professors who were handed the "city-planner's-dream" assignment by the State Department last May. All members of the institute's department of city and regional planning, they are Frederick Adams, Roland B. Greeley, who have both spent time at the Indian site, and John T. Howard.

The metropolis is to be situated around the India government's newly-proposed, west-coast port at the head of the Gulf of Kutch. Inhabitants are to be banished Sindi people. Need for the new city and for the exact designation that it is for the Sindi arose after India had won its independence from Great Britain.

India suffered a religious-political partition into Pakistan and India. The Mohammedan majority in Pakistan's capital, Karachi, forced some 50,000 Hindus from the state of Sindh. They migrated in droves to Bombay. Homeless and penniless, the Hindus have created a slum-breeds-crime menace; thousands are actually living and sleeping on the streets.

Expulsion of the Sindi did more than hurt the pride of the new government of India. Karachi had been a chief port, ranking with Bombay, and a new west-coast port and solution to the pathetic plight of the Sindi had to be found.

Babylonian Tablet Tells Biblical Story of Job

PARIS (UP)—Surprising resemblances between the old Testament story of the afflictions of Job and a Babylonian tablet about 1,000 years older than the biblical tale are reported by a French scholar.

Prof. Jean Nougayrol, a curator of the Louvre Museum, said there was a "strong similarity" with the Bible story in the fragmentary translation he recently completed on the clay brick imprinted with cuneiform letters.

He assigned a date of 1850 B.C. to the tablet because of its dedication to King Ammiditana, a Babylonian monarch reigning in the 17th century before Christ.

No exact date could be placed on the writing of the Book of Job, the professor said, although sections appear to have been transcribed from old folk tales about 600-700 B.C. That would indicate the job tale existed for about 1,000 years before the Old Testament.

The tablet continued with the Lord saying to the vicissitudes of a man's life that of a man, but your heart is present. The years have been fulfilled, the days numbered, the sorrow, if you have not been called to live, how could you have even dared to consider those weary nights?

Nougayrol said the tablet was signed by "Kubanni," roughly translated as "the dog." He emphasized that it probably was not the author of the story but just the man who wrote it down. As property mark in the foot-square, it shows the amount of a small star.

In ancient Babylon, the banks of the Euphrates, the tablets were a part of the church.

Advice From Lord

Partly himself and gave answers to the Lord, answered, according to the tablet. "Peregrine all bitterness, and give sweet beverages to the thirsty one, and the one who was prostrated will tremble and arise."

Mattress Test Stopped—Too Hard on Street

A "torture test" designed to prove the durability of a mattress was discontinued this morning because E. Church St. was not quite up to the ordeal.

The demonstration, arranged by Schaffner's Furniture Co., was to be conducted all day today on E. Church St. near the corner of S. Main. A mattress was placed in the street near the curb and a 10-ton, three-wheel road roller was provided to roll back and forth over it.

The test started on schedule at 9:30 a.m., but after approximately 70 trips across the mattress, signs of wear were observed on the street. A crack spread between bricks for about eight feet, and several bricks were shoved above or below their natural level. The test was halted to avoid further damage to the street.

"The mattress? It came through OK," according to the furniture store.

Air Force Putting Ground Observers On 24-Hour Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force will put most of its volunteer ground observer stations on a 24-hour basis effective May 17. Gen. Hest S. Vandenberg announced Thursday.

Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, said in a statement: "We are strengthening many of the weaknesses in the radar network. Since visual observers are effective in many cases where radar is of little aid."

There now are about 160,000 volunteer watchers in 36 states in the corps. The Air Force estimates it needs at least 500,000. Ohio is one of the states to change to a 24-hour watch called Operation Skywatch.

Vandenberg did not say how long the 24-hour-the-clock operation would continue. The Air Force indicated only that the operation will be in effect for an indefinite length of time.

There now are about 160,000 volunteer watchers in 36 states in the corps. The Air Force estimates it needs at least 500,000. Ohio is one of the states to change to a 24-hour watch called Operation Skywatch.

Vandenberg did not say how long the 24-hour-the-clock operation would continue. The Air Force indicated only that the operation will be in effect for an indefinite length of time.

Interview on a Rainy Night

Hitchhiker Possesses Quiet Kind of Courage

By GEORGE SCOTT

This is the story about a man with a quiet kind of courage. His name is Ray Morrison and he's blind. I met him as he was hitchhiking at the corner of S. Main and Columbia St. Thursday night.

Ray had a sign with "Columbia" printed on it in big letters. Beside him was his seeing-eye dog, OD.

A persistent rain made it a bad night for hitchhiking so Ray and I had a long talk.

Between spurges of traffic we discussed politics, the weather and Ray's search for a job.

I found out that he now sells papers in Toledo at the corner of Adams and Superior St. up there he was thinking he was to Columbus to visit his folks there.

July Friday morning he planned to head back for Toledo. He said he makes the trip about twice a week.

THIS SUMMER he hopes to hitchhike to Providence, R.I. to visit his sister and brother-in-law who is stationed in the Navy there.

I hesitated to ask Ray how he had become blind but he didn't mind telling me. He lost his sight with an attack of spinal meningitis 15 years ago. He's 29 now. I asked him if there was a chance of getting his sight back. He said, "No, but I'm used to it now."

He told me about his dog, OD. That strange name is indirectly newspaper name. OD is named after the late O. O. O'Hill, Marion's newspaper columnist. Ray got him at a special school up in Detroit. He's getting pretty old now for a dog, 9 but Ray said, "He took care of me and I'm going to take care of him now."

Ray has his own small apartment up in Toledo and he does all his own cooking.

AS MANY OTHER men Ray has a problem but for him it's a little tougher. He is not doing the kind of work he likes—the kind of work he's had training in. He has been schooled in light machine gun work and has had experience in assembly inspection and work with engines. He likes working with cars. Also he can type and take messages, he told me.

Things are a little slow now and various government employment agencies have not been able to help him. I told him The Star might be able to find some firm which could use his abilities. His address is Ray Morrison, 2121 A and Ave., Toledo, Ohio.

He left Marion by bus. A couple of Marion residents paid his fare. That act of generosity and the way himself made me glad I had met Ray Morrison.

Mrs. Donahue is the former Miss Bernice Whitney of Marion and a sister of Mrs. Clarence W. Weber of Wadsworth, Ohio, is a graduate of Harding High School.

Science Ready To Put Houseflies On Spot

BIRKENHEAD, Calif. (UP)—Scientists here believe they finally may have the number on the housefly.

Studies at the University of California show the housefly has no serious resistance to pyrethrum. Pyrethrum is not the most efficient of insecticides but is most effective when it hits flies. E. P. W. Wintersingham, visiting English scientist, is experimenting with the use of radioactive synthetic pyrethrum in tracing its killing action in the houseflies.

When the entomologists learn how this material works they hope to copy the killing action of it and make powerful new insecticides to which houseflies can't build up resistance as they have to other promising chemicals in the pit.

OSTRICHES CHALLENGED

FANSING, Mich. (UP)—Officers of next fall's Michigan State Fair are trying to arrange a race matching business horses against two of the fastest products of a Florida ostrich farm specially trained to run with sulkes and drivers.

Upper Sandusky

The Friendly Farmers here held their first meeting of the season Saturday afternoon at the home of Rita Gottfried.

Election of officers was held.

Results were as follows: president, Jean Wisner; vice president, Rita Gottfried; secretary, Janet Hufford; treasurer, Joyce Lester; Ruben Fesley; Whitman, news reporter, Rita Roseman; recreation leader, Ruth Dean Wisner. The club will meet the first of May. Officers of each district will meet the first of May. Officers of each district will meet the first of May. Officers of each district will meet the first of May.

Inside Labor

CHICAGO—TERSE ORDERS have sped up from the underworld in the past month directing pin-controlled labor leaders to dump not only mobsters with long police records from all their unions.

But the no moment for celebrating labor men to celebrate the orders from the men behind the men behind the goons, mostly means that the crime syndicate own officers are squinting in fear that publicity, particularly a dozen major titles will cost them not only from plant gambling, racket, shakedown or employment, but also from legitimate business transactions by their controlled unions.

Labor racketeers these days, after the penny-ante chips which can be picked out of the union treasuries, have to look for money comes from outside the labor outfits. So the crime syndicates, private planning, terms are not only daily and quickly replacing their notorious characters with new fourth who have put in time in the Without political record, a number of called racketeers, records of his tactics until convicted.

So the action are being jerked in the hope the spotlights will shift from labor racketeering. But they want in the labor, several joint drives are being organized for a showdown with mobster, some of the big cities, even if the means shooting it out with them.

I Like Mrs. Ike

NEW YORK—THERE'S NO DENYING you meet a lot of interesting persons in the newspaper business, but what to do with them is something else.

Luke Richard Levy, for example, for the life of me I can't figure out what to do with him. Mr. Levy's head or crown is with glory that is.

Mr. Levy has just written a book one of the modern rights of all Americans called "Why Women Should Rule the World," and it isn't funny at least not to Mr. Levy. He is dead earnest.

In the world don't give the boot to all a masculine figure, president and grand wizard, and replace them with women in the seats of power, then mankind will wear up one day to find itself extinct and the world in the soup the author said. Furthermore, it's later than we think. Times are a-burnin' and men are to blame.

In the ancient periods in history when women have ruled states, nations or empires, these potentia entities have enjoyed unopposed periods of peace and prosperity," Mr. Levy declared when he stopped by the office to only to preach his gospel.

Look to the fate of Queen Elizabeth I of England, to Victoria of England, to Catherine the Great of Russia, to Queen Maria of Sweden. Denmark and Norway, or Hildegarde of 12th.

He commanded.

TO HEAR HIM tell it. Then courts never had it so good before. Since these girls put their respective hands to the throttle. Most of the time these nations have been in trouble because masculine rulers have run them either in the front or behind the eight ball.

What comes of a masculine ruled and dominated society? What comes, says Mr. Levy in his book and in person is war, murder, bloodshed, strife, misery, unhappiness, destruction and taxes, taxes, taxes.

"Men are pugnacious, impractical, remissive and stupid," Mr. Levy snapped. They shouldn't be allowed out of the house except on a leash. Women, on the other hand, are practical, earthy, conservative and peace-loving.

"Women have a natural aptitude for governing," he continued. They are tidy and good housekeepers. Government, by and large, is housekeeping on a big scale.

"Politics is woman's natural forte. Men are politicians, are hypocrites from head to toe. Prehistoric man exterminated himself by his own folly. Modern man can only avoid the same fate by putting the political destiny of the world in the hands of women."

Blue Plate Luncheon

NEW YORK—WHAT KEEPS US Americans together?

Some say it is the unity of our ancestors—the flaming spirit of 1776.

I say that nothing has brought us together more often—nothing we have shared so many times as the blue plate luncheon.

If there is anything that has knit America together, joined one citizen to another, it is the blue plate luncheon.

The hungry American seeks out the blue plate luncheon. If he doesn't see it he asks for it. If it isn't there today he goes to another place tomorrow.

Mr. Levy, I don't look for a blue plate luncheon. It looks like I'll live on five-to-nothing for a blue plate luncheon. I'm in between. Blue plate and buffet and anytime between 10:00 a.m. and 3:15 p.m. and it will find me out.

Somehow, somewhere, I will end up sitting, before it and wishing I had the courage of a St. Louis friend of mine who once publicly criticized his breakfast by bending down and placing his eyeballs in front of two undercooked soft-boiled eggs and breaking into tears.

I DON'T WANT to be a snob about the blue plate luncheon. Please don't let the idea I think I'm too good for it. It is just too much for me.

I no longer can eat it at I met involvement.

By Victor Riesel

in the steady hands of leaders of the new National Association of Crime Commissioners, a loosely former coalition operating mostly over a telephone network. Although there are anti-crime commissions now in 15 cities, the private probe at each corner of the Chicago-New York-Miami triangle are most effective for the moment.

Their investigators now know where the crime crowd personnel is at any given moment. This tracing system works well over the triangle because the mobsters love their fat and the easy lady-lives off base. The FBI's men in the tropical islands down Miami way.

So when a latter-day scoundrel tale off each winter for a film-fraud front, from Chicago to New York the three anti-crime commissions clutched with each other. Miami is alerted—and the anti-crime commission there, which has the two other cities. On the return trip, the big box investigators brief heat southern dilly.

Soon the effective triangle will have it side lifted to include their entire one outfits in a more efficient organization.

THE NEW YORK Anti-Crime commission will invite the other crime racketing outfits to a national conference there, they scheduled some time before June 15 to really tie them up into a tight, in local network and circle, which will go beyond the daily telephone clearing of information.

These private anti-crime commissions are eager to continue their spotlight technique and toning go along with Senator Kefauver's suggestion that Congress get up $100,000 for a national crime commission to operate out of Washington under a chief appointed by President Truman. The private investigators say there are too many pressures on too many public officials to throw another federal board into the field.

They point out that one notorious eastern racketeer, prominent in the labor field, his influence in federal law enforcement circles and that many a federal agency knows of it but will do nothing.

They point out that the notorious Tony Anastasio, brother of the Lethal Albert, while not even in official in the International Longshoremen's Assn. (AFL) has power to strike vital Brooklyn docks and has tied up important shipments to Europe and is seeking control of a waterfront area which includes the most strategic U. S. Army embarkation pier.

The ladies don't have to be bright, they don't even have to be beautiful. They just have to be women according to Mr. Levy, who regards woman in power is a sure-fire cross between a rabbit's foot and a four-leaf clover.

THE AUTHOR, a tall, thin young man with a long, narrow face topped by thin, dark curly hair and adorned by a thin-line mustache, holly denies he is the victim of American manism of a mother complex. A lawyer by profession, he says he has simply read and re-interpreted history in its true light, Tynyben Gibben Carlyle Joyce and Xenophon notwithstanding.

"Where angels fear to tread is my favorite stamping ground," he said loftily.

In this masculine-dominated world, he sees at least one ray of hope: masculine-dominated communism has sowed the seeds of its own decay in Russia and elsewhere.

In America, candidates currently running for the presidential nomination of both parties should drop dead and let such talented women as Margaret Chase Smith, India Edwards, Claire Boothe Luce or Mrs. Eleanor R. Roosevelt take over. Mr. Levy advocates.

"The author's pet political slogan: 'What else but I like Mrs. Ike'."

Maybe that holds the insect. For years I have been a fugitive from the blue plate luncheon. I suspect that perhaps 100 million other Americans—at least—are in the same predicament.

Some day I am going to buy a blue plate luncheon, rush it to the nearest psychiatrist, and take it to the hotel I am staying at and use it instead of soap for a shower. I rub it on my head as a shampoo. I still have enough left to throw at barking dogs. And believe me, this is all done after I have eaten all of it I can.

Sometimes I even am left with a residue I put in an envelope and mail away to friends. (By the time they mail it back I have gone on to another town.)

This blue plate luncheon—the all-American culture nightmare—has imbued me in Florida. It has bushwhacked me in Alabama. It has cut up on my table in Oklahoma. You can't hide from it in Iowa. It will follow you around any restaurant in South Dakota. In Missouri it will bounce in your lap. Kims has never been able to outlaw it. In Pennsylvania it is even sometimes mistaken for food.

Occasionally, I have tried to imitate the blue plate luncheon but that's a problem beyond the grasp of one who only knows high school chemistry.

SO FAR AS I have been able to find out it is a piece of sodden protein engulged in gravy from which two mounds arise one being a distant cousinship to potato the other having a vague resemblance to another vegetable, living or dead.

But the entire sodden mass is a candidate for psychoanalysis—its involvement.

NEW JERSEY BASE ESCAPES FOREST FIRE FUROR—A wind-blown cloud of smoke rises from a forest fire that raged several hours in a heavily-wooded area just outside Camp Erie, N. J. near Asbury Park. For a time the wind-blown dump there was believed threatened, but no serious damage is reported by the fire fighters.

Bad Weather Cuts Campaign Of Kefauver

Bad weather Thursday lopped a whole day off the O. C. campaign of Sen. Estes Kefauver, who is scheduled to give a talk here Saturday afternoon.

His plane was unable to land at St. Louis, Mo., and as a result his wife Nancy did the speaking chores at a Jefferson-Jackson dinner there and at a Democratic women's meeting in Belmont, Conn. The Associated Press reported.

The female speaker who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president spent the night at Richmond, Va., when his plane was unable to land. He is scheduled to start a round of appearances in northern and eastern Ohio today and is to speak at Tiffin, Upper Sandusky, Marion, Milan, Bucyrus and Creston tomorrow. He is to talk in the courthouse steps here at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

He down with it on his couch—and his mind what it is all about. Wouldn't you too, live to solve the mystery of the average blue plate luncheon? It certainly requires a medical solution. It is psychosomatic.

Wilhelm Not To Meet Kefauver

Russell Wilhelm of Marion chairman of the 8th District Democratic Central Committee today said he definitely is not touring the Marion area tomorrow with Sen. Kefauver, as was reported to The Star Thursday.

I am not touring the area with Mr. Kefauver. I am opposed to Mr. Kefauver and chairman of the 8th District Democratic Central Committee. I am in charge of the campaign for the state of convention candidates backed by the region Democratic organization, he said.

The local organization is backing the state pledged to the favorite son candidate, former Sen. Bulkley.

Wilhelm's name was included in a list of Marion men Municipally spring rounds complained to and a W. Dexter Haven said the rounds-keeper of wild deer were planning to meet Kefauver, blowing along the fairways.

New Developments Speed Approach

Business Sees Dawn Of Push-Button Era

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The push-button era—so long talked about is being pushed along faster these days by a couple of things:

One is the rush to develop complicated machines that need few if any operators, thus cutting down the labor bill.

The other is the steadily extending life length plus the big baby crops, which make more output per worker necessary.

Scientific advances put industry in sight of the day when many factories will run almost automatically, industrial planners tell us—and with mechanical brains in the front office doing all the figuring and even making some of the decisions.

The simultaneous pressure from the changing population scene is this: The U. S. population is growing fast with a constantly increasing demand for goods. But as the country gets more older people and babies, the percentage of persons of working age grows less—and so the greater the need that each working man use machinery to help provide all the products that a nation, with so many not working, will need to consume.

THE AUTOMATIC factory is all but here already, Business Week magazine says, for some chemical processing, bottling and some phases of auto making. As the trend toward it grows, more complicated machinery will be needed, meaning bigger investments, and operating decisions so fast that present systems of management command will be too slow.

Here the electronic era is taking over. In the few years since industrial business machines first showed its giant mechanical brain, smaller machines are being developed which scientists believe will soon be able to fix production schedules, chart corporate expansion and keep running inventories.

Computation miracles are already being performed. Philip S. Fogg, president of the Consolidated Engineering Corp., Pasadena, Calif., says his company is developing a data-handling and computing system to cut from months to minutes the time required to solve business and industrial problems.

HE POINTS OUT that construction of one of the huge commercial planes takes some 3,275,000 engineering man hours—or four men working over 370 years. Electronic machines will cut that to comparatively nothing, Fogg says. His new machine is billed to handle up to 16 decimals and complete 1,000 additions a second.

A fully automatic digital computer is being made by Electronic Computer Corp. of Brooklyn for use of industrial research laboratories in solution of problems of aerodynamics, metallurgy, optics and the like.

Back in the factory, some management are making strides toward making the process more automatic.

Steven P. J. Wood, executive vice-president of the Warner Electric Brake & Clutch Co., Boston, Mass., sees the day much nearer when the operator of industrial machinery will be able to sit behind a remote control panel.

Will all this mean unemployment? No, say the planners, someone will have to make the machines, and a shift to robot production in big industries would stimulate desire for non-specialized production by other workers.

How Ohioans Voted in House And Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here's how Ohio Congressmen voted Wednesday on a motion killing a bill to create 23 new federal judgeships, including one in northern Ohio.

Democrats for—Secret.

Republicans for—Bender, Betts, Bolton, Bow, Brehm, Brown, Hess, Jenkins, McGregor, Schenck, Vorys, Weichel.

Democrats against—Kirwan and Polk.

Republicans against—Ayres, McCulloch.

Independent against—Reams.

Paired for—Elston and Cleveland, Republicans; Hays, Democrat.

Reps. Felghan and Crosser, both Democrats, were not listed as voting.

Sens. Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker, both Ohio Republicans, voted with the minority as the Senate returned to its banking committee a bill it tentatively approved earlier. The bill, a substitute introduced by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), would eliminate the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Both Taft and Bricker voted for the bill and against recommitment. The Senate returned the bill to the banking group by a 39-36 vote.

Wisc., sees the day much nearer when the operator of industrial machinery will be able to sit behind a remote control panel.

Will all this mean unemployment? No, say the planners, someone will have to make the machines, and a shift to robot production in big industries would stimulate desire for non-specialized production by other workers.

16 Firms List No Accidents

Sixteen Marion industries and shops reported no lost time accidents in March at a luncheon meeting of the Industrial Safety Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday, at Hotel Harding.

They are Alloy Cast Steel Co., American Malleable Casting Co., Arco Expansion Bolt Co., Baker Wood Preserving Co., C&O Freight House, Commercial Steel Casting Co., Erie Railroad, Fairfield Engineering Co., Harding High School, Marion Engineer Depot, McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., Monsanto Chemical Co., New York Central Railroad, Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Quaker Oats Co. and Marion Machine Tool Co.

Oranges at each plate were sent to members of the council by Roy Lovett, member of the council who is recuperating from his recent illness in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Dr. Dan M. Murphy, medical advisor and examiner for the industrial plants of Marion, spoke on the causes and effects of workers' back ailments.

Floyd P. Gehres, director of vocational education at Harding High School, will speak at the next meeting, May 28.

Upper Musicians Take High Ratings

UPPER SANDUSKY — Upper Sandusky High School musicians gathered three "first" ratings and a "second" in the state finals for solo and ensemble high school groups at Westerville Saturday.

"First" ratings went to Corinne Gibson, a cornet solo; William Price, bassoon solo; and a brass sextet composed of Corinne Gibson, Ruth B. Nau, Joan McWilliams, Richard Krebs, Allen Newell and David Long.

A flute quartet, Miriam Hale, Betty Kinsley, Helen Kinsley and Phyllis Beausay, received a "second" rating.

The Upper Sandusky High School band will participate in the state finale at Columbus, Saturday, April 26, at 8:30 a.m.

Conviction Of Cong. Brehm Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals Thursday upheld the conviction of Rep. Walter E. Brehm of Ohio on charges that he unlawfully took campaign contributions from a woman clerk in his office.

The 59-year-old Ohio Republican was convicted last spring of accepting $1,000 in 1948 from Mrs. Emma S. Craven. She no longer works for him.

Brehm was fined $5,000 and given a suspended 5-to-15 month jail sentence. Payment of the fine was held up, pending outcome of the appeal.

The federal corrupt practices act makes it a crime for members of Congress to accept political gifts from government employees.

Brehm contended in his appeal that the government failed to prove that any of Mrs. Craven's contributions were for his campaign for re-election. This was charged in the indictment.

He argued Mrs. Craven's testimony—a key part of the government's case—showed that she intended the money to go into the Republican general campaign fund.

The government contended its case was sufficiently proved when it showed Brehm took the money. The congressman is approaching the end of his fifth term in the House. He is not running for reelection.

A former dentist, his home is in Millersport, O.

False Bomb Tips Costly to GE

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—General Electric officials said today about 11,900 man-hours of production had been lost because of two anonymous bomb tips that proved to be a hoax.

Defense and civilian output of electronic tubes was cut off Wednesday and Tuesday when workers were sent home as a precautionary measure. The day shift returned today.

The second telephone tip in as many days that a bomb had been planted in a GE building was received Thursday, a half hour before the 1,000 employees were to quit for the day. Night shift workers were told not to report. Police found nothing.

Navy Clubs To Convene In Marion

Local Ship Host For State, National Groups This Week End

The Marion Navy Club will serve as hosts to Navy Club members from all parts of Ohio at a state squadron meeting to be held here Saturday and Sunday. Also being held in conjunction with the state convention will be a business meeting of the national staff of the Navy Club of the United States.

National Commandant Carl Solomonson of Rockford, Ill., and other national officers will attend the meeting. Main item on the staff meeting convention is plans for the national convention to be held June 26-28 at St. Louis.

A banquet will be held Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at the Marion Engineer Depot. Business meetings will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Navy Club rooms and the Grotto rooms on W. Church St.

Ralph Miller of Youngstown, state commandant, will attend the convention along with other members of his staff. Other national officers of the Navy Club include Harold Haugh of 864 E. Center St., chaplain; Ario Breidenbaugh Jr. of Jasper, Ind., senior executive officer; William C. Huber of East St. Louis, Ill., junior executive officer; Charles R. Topp of Davenport, Iowa, paymaster; Berl W. Sheeley of Wapakoneta, historian; Roger B. Farver of Akron, medical officer; Dr. Royal J. Mashek of Milwaukee, Wis., past commandant; Jack R. Smith of Quincy, Ill., rehabilitation director; Walter P. Popjoy of Chicago, master-at-arms; and Walter A. Rose of Rockford, Ill., shipwriter.

Prison

Thursday these desperadoes were holed-up in block 15.
One Killed, 11 Hurt
On Monday, they commandeered enough food in prison-wide rioting to last them for weeks if necessary. This rioting cost the life of one convict—victim of a state trooper's bullet—and injuries to 11 other prisoners and four policemen.
It also resulted in an estimated $2,000,000 damage from fire, vandalism and plunder—largely to prison utilities from which prisoners normally get the most pleasure.
Gov. Williams said the "no reprisal" promise did not in any way tie the hands of Attorney General Frank C. Millard, who has ordered an immediate investigation of the riot to determine what charges might be brought against the prisoners.
Millard said all crimes will be punished according to law. He said he will seek proof that will stand up in court of such charges as kidnapping, malicious destruction of property, rioting, inciting to riot, assault with intent to murder or do great bodily harm.
"No state official, not even the Supreme Court, can grant any immunity for the commission of crime," Millard said.
A similar statement came from Gov. Williams, who praised prison officials for their success "in restoring control without a blood bath."

Since Sunday the mutineers had roamed at large in the five-gallery brick cellblock 15. The only persons locked in individual cells were the guards—pawns in the convicts' hard bargaining with prison management.
13 Released
The last eight of the 13 hostages, shaken with terror and on the verge of physical collapse, were released in a dramatic 47-minute truce ceremony.
The mutiny leaders agreed to surrender Thursday morning after the state promised to settle their grievances—ranging from alleged guard brutality to parole board abuses. But they postponed their capitulation, at first for 24 hours.
Then Dr. Vernon Fox, assistant deputy warden and key figure in the mediation of the prisoners' grievances, persuaded them to give up about 20 hours ahead of schedule.
Bitter factional fights among the rebels reportedly made them eager for speedy settlement.
The mutineers threw open the doors of Cell Block 15 promptly at the appointed 4 p.m. surrender time.
Earl Ward, handsome but brutish undisputed boss of the rebels, stepped out to supervise the frisking of the surrendering convicts. The search stripped them of knives and assorted ball bats, wrenches, scissors, and other makeshift weapons.
Then the nuturers, who had lived on canned foods all week, filed in orderly fashion to the messhall and devoured a promised steak-to-ice cream dinner.

GENERAL'S WIFE VISITS HORSE SHOW. Mrs. Matthew B. Ridgway, wife of the Far East Commander, turns her head to watch an event at the equestrian show at the Imperial Palace grounds in Tokyo. Japanese Crown Prince Akihito (right), who participated in the show, sits beside the general's wife.

Thursday night, set up a noisy howl when they heard the mutiny leaders were feasting on steak. Some even set small bonfires.
Whether the strife would lead to a shakeup in prison personnel remained to be seen. Some demands already have been made for sweeping investigations.
Some of the critics of the prison administration have complained it has been too lenient. Others have protested it has been too rigid. Warden Julian Frisbie is generally recognized as a strict disciplinarian. Some members of his staff, including Dr. Fox, have been conciliatory.
Warden Frisbie said he hoped to restore the prison to somewhat normal operations by Monday. But it will take months to rebuild the prison library, gymnasium, hobby shop, and other facilities ruined by the marauding rioters.
Beheading was regarded as an honorable form of execution by the Romans.

Boston Whips Yankees, 3-2, To Tighten AL Standings

Boudreau's Crew Hurls Challenge at Browns

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those beautiful Browns are not the only "amazing" team in the American League. How about those upstart Boston Red Sox?

Lou Boudreau's plink-cheeked Bobby Sox have been knocking the stuffings out of the opposition right from the start, but they have been overshadowed by the tremendous surge of the once-lonely St. Louis Browns.

It took a Brownie postgame to cast the spotlight on the comeback of once-powerful Boston. The youth-infested Red Sox built a "move over" challenge at the Browns Thursday by whipping the world champion New York Yankees, 3-2, to sweep their two-game series.

It took the Red Sox 11 innings to do it but in the end they had their third consecutive victory stored away to boost their season record to nine triumphs and only two losses. That actually put them a half game in front of the Browns St. Louis, however, remained in first place percentage-wise. The Browns showed a 7-1 .875 mark to Boston's 9-2 .818.

Braves Win

In the days only other activity the Boston Braves overcame a 3-0 deficit with three tallies in the eighth and third in the 10th to defeat the New York Giants, 6-3 at the Polo Grounds.

Rain and cold weather cancelled all other games in the major leagues.

Once again, it was the Red Sox kiddie corps that paved the way to Boston's victory. Two successive bases on balls by relief pitcher Bob Kuzava provided the winning run but it was a single by Freshman Sammy White that set up the tally.

The youthful catcher, who had homered for Boston's first run in the fifth, advanced to second on Don Dillinger's one-bagger and moved all the way around when Kuzava walked Jimmy Pierrelli and Billy Goodman.

Rookie pitcher Ivan Delock who relieved starter Maurice McDevitt in the 11th, earned his first major league victory with only one inning of work. The Yankees loaded the bases on him with only one out in the 11th but couldn't get a man across. Delock got Hank Bauer to fly short to DiMaggio in center and then struck out Mickey Mantle.

Rookie Doubles

A bases-loaded double by Rookie Ed Matthews in the 10th inning broke up a 2-3 tie and enabled the Braves to snap a three-game losing streak. Lew Hunder, who relieved starter Warren Spahn in the seventh, was credited with his second victory. Dave Koski was the loser.

Starter Max Lanier of the Giants had a shutout until the eighth when Earl Torgeson homered with two out. A single by Sid Gordon, a walk to Willie Marshall, a wild pitch and Walker Cooper's single tied the score at 3-3 and brought in Koski.

Manager Leo Durocher had to watch the tournament from the clubhouse, having been ejected by Plate Umpire Art Gore in the sixth inning. Durocher got the heave for squawking about Spain's "fast pitching." Willie Mays in the fifth as Leo walked from the third base coaching box to the dugout, he apparently said something uncomplimentary and up went Gore's thumb.

Golfer Tells Of Outslicking British Foes

By GAVIN TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—In the current issue of the U. S. Golf Association Journal Leonard Crawley, a well known British amateur tells how he outslicked and defeated seven opponents in a row to win an important tournament the Presidents' Putter at Rye a windy English seaside links.

There was nothing underhand about the veteran's tactics, you understand. It was just that he dreamed up a lovely little advantage for himself.

"Having convinced myself that the larger ball as used in America is easier in winter conditions even at Rye I used it in all seven rounds at upwards of 75 per cent of the holes I played, and not one of my opponents noticed it or at any rate none of them commented upon it," Crawley relates.

I used our little (British) ball against the wind at the long holes. If there is one factor more than any other that helped me to win round after round, it was that with the shorter irons and the big ball I was much more accurate than any of my opponents.

THREE IT IS—SIMPLY—but it left at least one reader slightly befuddled. As usual in such instances, we carried our difficulties to Joe Dev Jr., the executive secretary of the USGA, who knows everything. Was this happy discovery of Crawley's likely to spread to this country? Would the time come when an efficient lady would be expected to name the proper club, as well as the proper club, for a given shot?

"Not at all," Joe replied patiently. "What Crawley did over there was legal, but it couldn't be done on this side. Strictly against the rules."

But we interposed, still groping didn't you fellows get together with the British last year and agree on a completely common set of rules? It was in all the papers. How come our boys can't use the Crawley system?

They can, Joe said, "when they're playing in Britain or when they're playing in either the Walker Cup or Ryder Cup matches in this country. It might sound complicated to you (we said, yes, it did) but I can explain."

Our rule says that the ball must not be less than 1.68 inches in diameter. The British say that theirs must not be less than 1.62 inches. They do not say—note this carefully—that it cannot be more than 1.62 inches. That is what Crawley noted, and he was not the first Englishman to discover that he liked our ball better except when he was shooting into the wind. He was just the first to own up in print.

THAT MUCH SEEMED CLEAR, but what about that all-inclusive treaty with the Royal and ancient? Did it not extend to a free interchange of balls?

No, that was the one little thing they did not agree upon," Joe admitted. The negotiating committee recommended it but our executive committee would not consent to the use of the little ball in our tournaments. It agreed to their usage only in international team matches in this country. The British ball will be legal over here for the first time in the Walker Cup matches next year.

But every other rule in the

Edison Thinclads Win Opening Meet

Edison Junior High School's track crew tried to a top bid win over the State Street Thinclads Thursday afternoon at the Stadium, 821-171.

Coach George Whitclad's crew picked up nine individual firsts and tied two others. Jim Suter picked up 11½ points to lead the winners while Ted Fustenberg added 11½. It was the first meet of the year for the Edison team.

Winners in the various events and the times follow: shot put—Caldwell (L), 30-7½; high jump—Suter (L), 4-6; pole vault—Cobb (L), 11-0; 100-yd dash—Albin (L), 15-4; 200-yd dash—Albin (L), 3-11; 400-yd dash—Albin (L), 1-13; 800-yd dash—Thomas (L), 2-23; 1600-yd dash—Thomas (L), 5-11; 3200-yd dash—Thomas (L), 11-5; 6400-yd dash—Fustenberg (L), 23-1; 12800-yd dash—Suter (L), 45-8; 25600-yd dash—Suter (L), 1-58; mile relay—Edison (L), 10-11; 2-mi relay—Thomas and Fustenberg (L), 10-6.

Distance Runners Set For Olympic Preview

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Uncle Sam gets a full scale preview of his Olympic track and field prospects today. Some 417 athletes from 508 institutions open the 58th annual Penn Relay Carnival.

Michigan's distance medley quartet, fresh from a 4:56.3 world record performance will get all the competition it could ask for from the U. S. Air Force team based at Lockbourne, near Columbus, O.

The air force base team, headed by Mel Whitfield, Ohio States 1918 Olympic 800 meter champion, Villanova, Princeton and Yale will go against the Big Ten speedsters

Pitcher Hurls 12 Hitless Innings. Whipped in 13th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eli Singleton San Francisco Seals' right-hander pitched no-hit, no-run ball for 12 innings Thursday night. Then—bang—three Sacramento singles in the 13th turned glory into a 1-0 defeat.

For six innings of the Pacific Coast League game the 31-year-old Singleton was flawless. It was three up and three down.

He walked two men in the seventh and one in the 10th.

Meanwhile Sacramento's Jess Flores once with the Philadelphia Athletics was turning back the Seals although a bit pressed at times.

In the Sacramento 13th the first man up First Baseman Bill Glynn, drove the seal centerfielder clear to the fence to pull down his drive.

The fans hadn't quit sighing when Second Sacker Eddie Bockman singled—the first hit off Singleton. Leftfielder Al White and Johnny Ostrowski followed with singles and Bockman scored.

Buckeyes Begin Defense of Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Every Big Ten team will be in action today as the 1932 baseball pennant race, increased from 12 to 15 games this season, gets started.

Defending Champion Ohio State makes its conference debut against strong Michigan State at East Lansing.

Ohio State has a rebuilt infield and outfield but a strong mound corps that includes Freshman Paul Ehalt start basketball center.

Other games send Northwestern to Indiana, Illinois to Michigan, Wisconsin to Purdue and Iowa to Minnesota.

A round of five doubleheaders is on tap for Saturday as Northwestern goes to Purdue, Illinois to Michigan State, Ohio State to Michigan, Wisconsin to Indiana and Iowa continuing at Minnesota.

Saigh Hearing Set Monday

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fred Saigh, the St. Louis Cardinals' owner, will be arraigned Monday in federal court on charges of income tax evasion.

Saigh accused of evading $40,000 in taxes, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday. He surrendered Thursday and was released on $2,000 bond.

The 46-year-old club owner will appear before Federal Judge Roy W. Harper. In a statement Saigh said he felt certain he would be vindicated. He is charged with evading taxes from 1948 through 1949.

PURSES INCREASED

COLUMBUS (AP)—Total purses at nearby Beulah Park in 1951 will be increased approximately $1000 daily over last year, park officials said today. Biggest prize of the 19-day meeting opening Saturday May 10 is the $2500 Governor's Handicap May 24. The minimum purse was increased from $700 to $900.

book is uniform the world over," Joe hastened to add, "and we think that is quite wonderful. Just think—only six one-hundredths of an inch now separate the world's two great golf governing bodies, and we feel confident that will be moved within a few years by a uniform ball of six 1.65 inches diameter."

Meantime, Joe emphasized, it will be necessary for a man to visit England if he wants to use the two-plateau system.

More Lefties On Tap

Tribe's Shaky Fielding Worries Manager Lopez

CLEVELAND (AP)—Southpawed with lefties don't worry Indian Manager Al Lopez. He's more concerned over his club's shaky fielding.

"I can't understand it," said Al. "We weren't making errors in the exhibition games, then as soon as the season starts we make 'em'."

This is what Al is talking about. In nine games the Indians' infield has committed 10 errors—Al Rosen, four, Ray Boone, three and Bob Avila, three.

However, Al may feel about enemy left handed pitchers he can count on more of the same this week. Today it's White Sox Hurler Billy Pierce pitching out of rotation just because he throws from the port side.

Saturday at Detroit look for Lefty Teddy Gray. On Sunday, Hal Newhouse, left hander of course, is a possible starter, also at Detroit. Then the Indians go to Philadelphia, and the A's are loaded.

It seemed probable that two—possibly all three—of Cleveland's cripples would get back into the lineup for today's game against the White Sox.

That would be Jim Hegan (aching elbow) and Bob Avila (a bruised left thigh) and Larry Doby (charley horse in leg).

"We'll know about Doby today," said Al. "If his leg feels all right he'll play. If not he won't. There's no use rushing him."

All three of these men missed all or most of the St. Louis series. Lopez, in spite of Cleveland's double loss to St. Louis thinks the Browns won't be so tough later in the season.

The Indians also will have Mickey Harris on tap today. He was purchased from the Washington Nats a few days ago as a left handed relief pitcher.

Blackie Seeks First Victory At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A well tested Blackie Backwell was scheduled to try it on in today's game at the Chicago Cubs. A balance his one loss with a Chicago victory.

Blackie's no-game winner this season can't say he hasn't been given all the relaxation he could want.

He was to pitch against St. Louis in the second of a two-game series at Crosley Field Wednesday, but the game was rained out Thursday. He was to start against the Cubs, but frigid weather forced postponement of the contest too.

The local forecast for today however was fair and warmer. That means Blackwell should have his chance against the Cubs, who also has a 0-1 record.

The lanky chucker's initial effort against the Pittsburgh Pirates on April 18 was to put it mildly on the unimpressive side. He gave up three runs, two of them earned, in six innings and yielded five hits and three walks.

Blackie still eked up his strike is however.

A Blackwell win today would be right down Main. Luke Sewell's loss would be a real letdown. The Cubs may be counting on a better season and at the same time it would knock the Browns out of their second-place tie with the Reds.

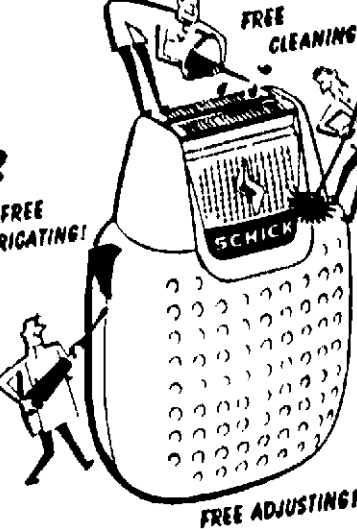

The Cubs have only their two games of the season Chicago runs today and at Cincinnati with a 0-5 triumph in 10 innings. Kenny Kattensberger whitewashed the Cubs 5-0 two days later for the first of his two victories.

Army ordinance men report everything from catches to tanks yielded five hits and three walks. (They are the Army's "fix-it" corps.

Gushing Oil Wins Blue Grass Stakes
 LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The Grass Thursday at Keeneland. 28th running of the Blue Grass Gushing Oil sloshed through the Stakes, final major test for three-year-olds before the Kentucky Derby, produced little new information, Jet Ace and Smoke Screen, ination on the Louisville Classic displayed little to mark them as May 3.

Only four sophomores, all nominated for the $100,000-added Derby, turned out for the $31,150 Blue Derby.

Vernon Runners In Win at Galion

The Vernon Junior High School track team edged Galion's junior high squad Thursday in a meet held at Galion. It was the opening meet of the season for both teams.
 Both teams won six firsts but second and third place finishes clinched the verdict for the locals. The events were run on a 400-yard track rather than the regulation 440 yards.
 Winners and times in the various events were as follows:
 Shot—Armstrong (V), 41-10; discus—Duncan (V), 85-6; high jump—Quay (V), 5-3; pole vault—Sharrock (G), 7-8; broad jump—Quay (G), 16-10; hurdles—Eaken (G), 15.8; 100-yard dash—King (V), 11.4; 800-yard run—Johnson (G), 8:00; 1-mile run—Vernon; 440-yard dash—Quay (G), 58 seconds; 220-yard dash—King (V), 26 seconds.

19 Schools Set For Annual Sparta Relays

Special to The Star
SPARTA — The third annual Sparta Invitational relays will be held Saturday at the Mt. Vernon High School athletic field. The qualifying events will get underway at 10 a.m. The mile relay and mile run will be held in the morning with other track and field events scheduled to start at 1 p.m.
 Nineteen schools are entered. They are: Bellville, Bldensburg, Cardington, Claridon, Centerburg, Danville, Edison, Fredericktown, Green Camp, Hayesville, Hyatts, Iberia, Johnsville, New Bloomington, Ontario, St. Marys, Perrysville, Pleasant and Sparta. Trophies will be presented to the High point team of the county and to the high point team of the meet.
SETS 10-GAME SLATE
CINCINNATI (AP) — Xavier University's football team, unbeaten although once-tied last season, will play a ten-game schedule next fall, Athletic Director Al Stepan said today. The Musketeers will open against the Quantico Marines the night of Sept. 21 and will meet Boston College and Villanova for the first time on the gridiron.
 Dayton University's Flyers played a home-and-home series with Xavier in 1949 and the two schools are renewing this arrangement in 1952. The Muskies won in 1949 by 21-7 and 14-0 scores.
NAMED BY WRITERS
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Fritz Howell, Associated Press sports editor at the Columbus bureau, Thursday was named president of the National Bowling Writers' Association at the American Bowling Congress tournament here.

Obeys Court Order In Wrong Way, Winds Up In Jail

It was a case of doing the right thing the wrong way. Peter Murry, 22, of Birmingham, Ala., was picked up by city police Wednesday night on a charge of suspicion. He was fined $10 and costs Thursday morning but the fine was suspended on condition that he leave town.

So he left town. Thursday afternoon he was picked up again—this time for illegal train riding. He was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Court. Unable to pay the fine he was confined in the county jail where he is now serving 11 days.

case in which a Federal Court had found a presidential seizure order legal which had not been issued under a specific law passed by Congress.

Week's Delay Turned Down

Baldridge, chief government attorney in the case, asked for a week's delay to give him more time to prepare his arguments.

But Pine denied the request, saying the case "requires almost immediate action. The parties are entitled to very prompt action."

Along with their request for a temporary injunction, all but one of the six companies making the bid have asked Pine to go another step and rule the seizure itself illegal.

Pine said he would work "night and day" on the case, disregarding all other business in order to bring out the fastest possible decision. There was no advance indication whether he would reach that decision today.

Technically, a temporary injunction would forbid Secretary of Commerce Sawyer from taking any steps under the seizure order. The government already is working on a wage boost for Philip Murray's 650,000 Steelworkers, but if Pine granted the injunction this would be forbidden.

Discovers Utopia On Carolina Farm
PINK HILL, N. C. (UP) — Twenty-two years ago Gaston Branch and his wife were tenant farmers on a rural farm, struggling to send their 13 children to school.
The Negro couple lived as tenants for 15 years before they managed to buy a small farm. Now, Branch has sold the Duplin County Negro farm agent, Riddick Wilkins, $75,000 couldn't buy him out.
"It's taken 65 years of work," Branch said. "It hasn't been a bed of roses."
Now, Wilkins said Branch has reached a goal attained by few tenant farmers: he can retire.
Wilkins said Branch believed in diversified farming from the start, emphasizing livestock production with a herd of hogs and cattle and use of improved farm machinery.
Of more than 17 billion board feet of saw timber in the nation, only about two-thirds could be cut in century forest report.
